ISLAND OF GLASS

The Guardians Trilogy • Book 3

Nora Roberts

"As always, readers are in for a terrific blend of danger, romance and mystery!"

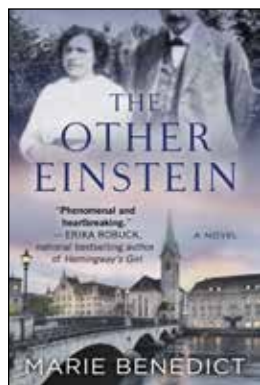

— RT Book Reviews on Stars of Fortune

As the hunt for the Star of Ice leads the six guardians to Ireland, Doyle, the immortal, must face his tragic past. Three centuries ago, he closed off his heart, yet his warrior spirit is still drawn to the wild. And there's no one more familiar with the wild than Riley — and the wolf within her . . .

Stories for women about women. Their relationships with family and friends, about how they overcome obstacles in their lives and discover the value of loving themselves. Selections consist of clean, wholesome reads and contain no graphic sex or violence. These titles are selected by Booklist editor Rebecca Vnuk, an expert in the Women's Fiction genre and former librarian.

Rebecca's thoughts . . .

Colgan has quite a following for her fun and fluffy novels. Readers love her charming characters, the light romance, and of course, the recipes! Readers who enjoy the humor of Sophie Kinsella, Mary Kay Andrews, or Hester Browne should try Colgan.

Rebecca's thoughts . . .

Continuing this month's mini British Invasion, Mansell's latest finds three strangers brought together by fate. This will appeal to readers who love character-rich romantic women's fiction, such as novels by Katie Fforde, Harriet Evans, and Jojo Moyes.

PEER PICKS

25% Standing Order Discount & Free Shipping! 24 hardcover titles each year for about $567.

THIS QUARTER'S PEER PICKS SELECTOR IS Roberta Dewing

Roberta is the director of the Kentland-Jefferson Township Public Library located in Kentland, a small rural town in Northwest Indiana. She has been the director there for 31 years, now serving a population of around 1,750. Roberta was born and raised in Kentland and went to college at Indiana State University in Terre Haute. She worked for two years at another small public library in Indiana before moving back home to marry a local farmer, and has been at Kentland ever since. Since high school, Roberta's dream job was to be a librarian at a small public library. She wears many hats and finds that each day is different. Her favorite part of being a librarian is reader advisory; she has so much fun introducing readers to new authors or to old favorites. Since Kentland is a small community, Roberta is never surprised when she's stopped at the bank or grocery store and asked to renew a book, give a title recommendation, or hear about a title someone enjoyed.

BUILDING OUR LARGE PRINT COLLECTION

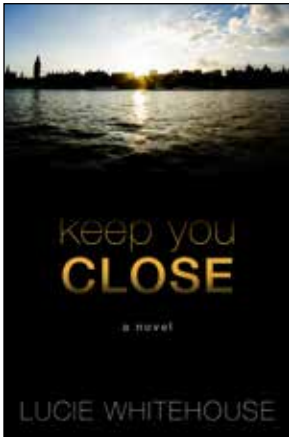

As a small library director, I know my patrons and what they enjoy reading so I am always on the lookout for titles from their favorite authors; interesting and well-reviewed stories; new series by established authors, and debut authors. I am now ordering a majority of bestselling authors in large print along with well-reviewed debut authors as my observation is that the large print copy turnover is quicker than the regular print. This may be due to the large print copy being easier to read. I begin new series in large print since I may only have room on the shelves and in my budget for one copy. I believe any patron is able to read large print so if my budget and space only permits one copy I am making it large print.

The criteria that I use to purchase/select large print titles is popular authors — not just bestsellers but those authors that many of our patrons enjoy reading. The majority of my large print collection is fiction as that is what my regular patrons read the most. I have purchased a small collection of large print in the history and medical areas.

I use reviews and promotional catalogs/information to purchase titles — in particular debut authors or authors that I am not familiar with.

My large print collection has doubled in size in just the past two years since we began shelving new large print next to new regular print. This has definitely increased the circulation of our large print titles.

KEEP YOU CLOSE

Lucie Whitehouse

“A wickedly addictive psychological thriller with enough twists and turns to keep genre enthusiasts captivated and reading well past their bedtime.” — starred, Library Journal

“An absorbing, twisty psychological thriller.” — Booklist

When artist Marianne Glass falls to her death, it's called a tragic accident. Yet Rowan Winter, once her closest friend, knows Marianne had paralyzing vertigo and would never have gone so close to the roof's edge. To discover the truth, Rowan begins to seek clues . . .

978-1-4104-9552-5 ■ $31.99 U.S.

Thriller ■ Releases 12/21/2016

Roberta says: As teenagers, Rowan Winter and Marianne Glass were best friends. Ten years later a phone call comes telling Rowan that Marianne is dead and Rowan investigates the truth about Marianne's death. While slow in starting the story picks up steam as unusual twists and turns keep the reader glued to the story eager to find out what is the truth behind Marianne's death. A solid psychological thriller with a touch of romance, the ending is worth the time spent reading.

ALL THE TIME IN THE WORLD

Caroline Angell

“Angell's remarkable debut is a complex story about love, family, grief, the destiny that is handed to us, and the destiny that we choose . . . the kind of book readers won't want to see end.” — Publishers Weekly

Blindsided by a shocking betrayal in her promising career, Charlotte, a gifted young musician, takes a nanny gig to lick her wounds and figure out her next move. Then a tragedy leaves the Upper East Side Manhattan family bereft, and Charlotte is not the only one to realize that she's the key to holding the children's world together. Now she faces an impossible choice . . .

978-1-4104-9551-8 ■ $30.99 U.S.

Women's Fiction ■ Releases 12/21/2016

Roberta says: Charlotte, an aspiring composer, takes a job as a nanny for two young boys. Tragedy strikes the family and Charlottes becomes the glue that holds the family together. This debut author's novel of love, grief, hope, and humor is a rich emotional read and will be a hit with book clubs.

I AM NO ONE

Patrick Flanery

"A brilliant commentary on pervasive government intrusion into the private lives of citizens . . . [and] an excellent portrayal of a good man manipulated by others, without ever understanding why."

— starred, Publishers Weekly

SML After a decade in England, Jeremy O'Keefe returns to New York and his life begins taking strange turns: records of his online activity are delivered to his apartment, he's being followed, and his elderly mother receives phone calls slandering him. From the author of Absolution comes a mesmerizing novel about memory, privacy, fear, and what happens when our past catches up with us.

978-1-4104-9493-1 ■ $31.99 U.S.

Literary Fiction ■ Releases 12/7/2016

"This cerebral, slow-building yarn will have readers racing to untangle the central puzzle, while being complicit in the meta-awareness that the novel itself is a form of surveillance. The language cleverly hints at the disassociated state of our narrator while relentlessly guiding the reader through a trenchant observation of the modern condition. The post-Snowden era has produced its first philosophical thriller. For fans of DeLillo, Cory Doctorow and Mr. Robot."

CHRISTMAS IN THE LONE STAR STATE

A TEXAS NOVEL OF THE WEST

Jason Manning

Jason Manning is back with a brand-new Western set in the rough-and-tumble Texas frontier. 'Tis the season . . .

SML Texas Ranger Bill Sayles is on the wrong side of three score years, but he still hits what he aims at and is not a man to cross. Ten days before Christmas, 1876, he arrives at the state prison to escort Jake Eddings on a furlough to lay his ten-year-old son to rest. But when Sayles gets wind that the murderous Litchfield brothers are headed for Eddings' farm, the Ranger and his prisoner join forces to grab a last shot at redemption.

A COLORADO CHRISTMAS

William W. Johnstone with J. A. Johnstone

"This rollicking Western is full of gunfights, outlaws, and an unforgettable holiday."

— Library Journal on A Texas Hill Country Christmas

At the Sugarloaf Ranch, Smoke and Sally Jensen prepare to welcome Preacher home for the holidays — unaware that their friend is trailed by a storm full of trouble. Brought together by fate and fury to forge peace on earth, they're going to have to fight for it. With guns. With grit. With glory. Because this Christmas, the greatest gift of all is . . . staying alive.

DAY OF RAGE

Sixkiller, U.S. Marshal

William W. Johnstone with J. A. Johnstone

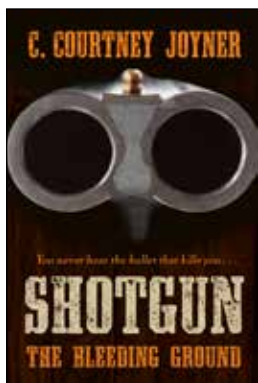

Only William W. Johnstone with J. A. Johnstone could tell a tale of violence and vengeance so real, so raw, it outdoes the legends of Old West justice that inspired it.

It was there for the taking: $75,000 in gold bullion, the combined payrolls of three productive gold mines, just waiting to be stolen from under the noses of a bickering sheriff and city marshal. Billy Ray Gilmore and his band of kill-crazy outlaws have a plan to do it, too — that is, until John Henry Sixkiller comes to town.

SHOTGUN: THE BLEEDING GROUND

C. Courtney Joyner

He lost his arm to outlaws. Replaced it with a double-barreled boom stick. Now Civil War veteran Dr. John Bishop is armed for justice . . .

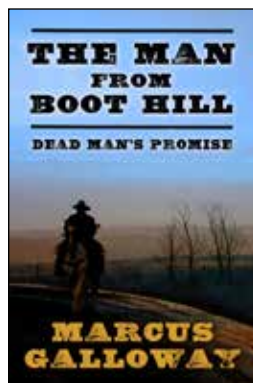

John "Shotgun" Bishop's lowlife

brother, Devlin, has set his cold black heart on taking over John Chisum's land, destroying the cattle king's dream of building a new town. So Chisum hires Shotgun and his partner, White Fox, to protect his investment. But when the family feud turns into an all-out turf war, Shotgun ends up on the wrong side of the law.

THE CURSE OF SKULL CANYON

A Lonnie Gentry Western

Peter Brandvold

"... will remind the reader of pulp westerns from 75 years ago. There's plenty of action, and the adolescent romance is well handled."

— Booklist on Lonnie Gentry

Everyone in the Never Summer

Mountains knows the ancient curse: a man who lets nightfall find him in Skull Canyon will soon die a violent death. Folks stay clear of the forbidding chasm that sits not far from the ranch young Lonnie Gentry shares with his mother and infant half brother. Then, pursued by a pack of savage riders and lured by cries for help, Lonnie awakens at sunup to learn the extent of Skull Canyon's horror.
