THIS QUARTER'S PEER PICKS SELECTOR IS Vicki Nesting

Vicki has worked in the St. Charles Parish Library System in Destrehan, Louisiana for 17 years, first as a Regional Branch Librarian and then as Assistant Director. Before she came to St. Charles Parish, she worked at New Orleans Public Library and Jefferson Parish Library. Vicki has served on numerous ALA committees such as the RUSA-CODES Readers' Advisory Committee, VRT Notable Videos for Adults Committee, and RUSA-CODES Reading List Council. She also served as editor of the "New Product News" column in Public Libraries magazine for ten years. She is an active participant in the LibraryReads program and EarlyWord's monthly GalleyChat. St. Charles Parish is a rural-suburban area outside of New Orleans, with a population of approximately 52,000 people. The library system has two regional branches and four smaller neighborhood branches as well as a bookmobile and a planetarium.

ENCOURAGING USE OF THE WHOLE COLLECTION

While we do maintain a separate large print collection, we try to incorporate all different material formats into everything we do at the library. It is more effective to show people what we have to offer, rather than just telling them. Our "New Books" section includes new large print titles alongside the regular print editions. When we do topical book displays, we include relevant large print editions, audiobooks, and DVDs along with the regular print books.

In our catalog, we attach the large print copy of a book to the overall holdings record, so patrons who are waiting for a popular title may get either a regular print or a large print copy depending on which one happens to be available first. This exposes many people to large print for the first time who might otherwise never have even thought about trying it. Once they try large print, many find they like it and start asking for it!

For our library's book discussion group, we generally order each selected title in trade paperback format but we also try to order it in large print, audio, and ebook formats as well, so participants can read the book in whatever format suits them best. Patrons appreciate having these options and the large print edition is popular with book group members of all ages.

In the large print collection, we know that our large print readers like popular materials just as much as any other reader, so we work hard to keep these collections up to date. Weeding is an important component of our plan to keep the collection fresh, appealing, and easy for our patrons to browse.

Large print is not just for seniors anymore, and we feel that our efforts to integrate large print materials into a variety of displays and activities allow a much broader range of patrons to become aware of the benefits of large print.

Vicki says: The Bear and the Nightingale is a beautifully written story that magically transports us to another place and time in a way few novels do. It begins on a freezing cold winter's night in a remote part of Russia a long, long time ago. Everyone is gathered around the kitchen stove, where the family nurse is telling a fairy tale and suddenly we, the readers, are right there in the middle of the kitchen, completely absorbed. This is a truly enchanting tale to wrap yourself up in on a cold winter night — or even a steamy summer day!
