JANUARY 2018 NEW RELEASES

A SEARING AND PROFOUND SOUTHERN ODYSSEY

978-1-4328-4368-7
$38.99 U.S.

Don't miss this upcoming title
from National Book
Award winning author
Jesmyn Ward . . .

An Indie Next Pick with starred reviews from both Publishers Weekly and Library Journal, this is a searing and profound

Southern odyssey that delves into the reality of poverty, race, and prejudice with tender characterizations and spirituality.

It's the story of three generations in Mississippi:
a grandmother dying of cancer while still caring for the children of her coke-snorting daughter, Leonie, who is haunted by spirits, including her own murdered brother. When the children's father is released from prison, Leonie drags them on a journey hoping for reunion. (See more on page 8)

“ . . . their stories are deeply affecting, in no small part because of Ward's brilliant writing and compassionate eye.”
— starred, Publishers Weekly

“ Lyrical yet tough, Ward's distilled language effectively captures the hard lives, fraught relationships, and spiritual depth of her characters.” — starred, Library Journal

“ Faulkner and other ghosts sing . . . It combines aspects of the American road novel and the ghost story with a timely treatment of the long aftershocks of a hurricane and the opioid epidemic devouring rural America.
. . . It is Ward's most unsparing book.
The clearest influence is Toni Morrison's Beloved . . . ” — The New York Times

A Stone Barrington Novel

Stuart Woods

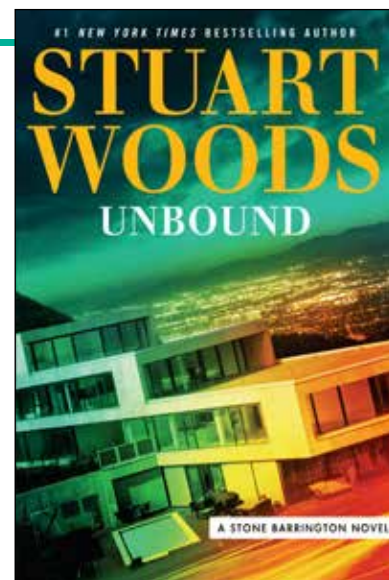

#1 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

EDGAR AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR

EDITOR'S CHOICE #1 TITLE

"Woods keeps the suspense high all the way to the dramatic conclusion."— Publishers Weekly on Below the Belt

In the wake of a personal tragedy, former CIA operative Teddy Fay takes a leave of absence to travel and grieve, landing in Santa Fe with his friends Stone Barrington and Ed Eagle. There, fate hands him an opportunity to exact quiet revenge for his recent loss from a man who helped to cover up the crime. It will take all of Stone Barrington's diplomacy and skill to maneuver for Teddy's advantage while keeping innocents out of the crossfire.

Zinzi Clemmons

INDIE NEXT PICK

"A big, brainy drama told by a fearless, funny young woman. . . . A compelling exploration of race, migration, and womanhood in contemporary America."

— starred, Kirkus Reviews

Raised in Pennsylvania, Thandi views her mother's Johannesburg childhood as both impossibly distant and ever present. She's an outsider, caught between being black and white, American and not. As her mother succumbs to cancer, Thandi searches for an anchor and Clemmons creates a stunning portrayal of what it means to choose to live after loss.

THE MISFORTUNE OF MARION PALM

Emily Culliton

"With her mordant wit, deft plotting, and clever storytelling, Culliton is a young novelist to watch."

— starred, Library Journal

This wildly entertaining debut novel is about a Brooklyn Heights wife and mother who has embezzled a small fortune from her children's private school. Faced with an audit she makes a run for it, leaving behind her trust fund poet husband, his maybe-secret lover, her two daughters, and a school board that will do anything to find her.

PROMISE NOT TO TELL

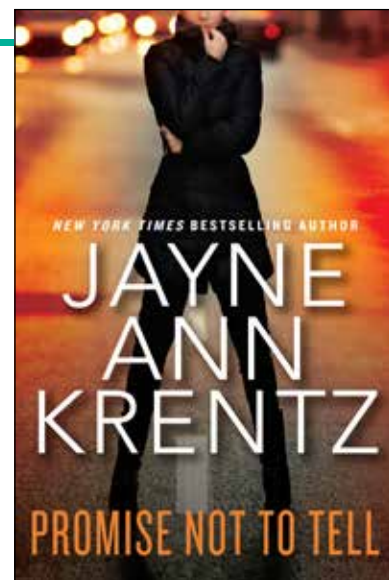

Jayne Ann Krentz

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"Snappy writing infused with tart wit, and a captivating pair of protagonists . . . Krentz's latest superbly written tale ticks off every box on a romantic-suspense fan's wish list."

— starred, Booklist on When All the Girls Have Gone

For years, Seattle gallery owner Virginia Troy has battled demons that stem from her childhood time in a cult where a fire burned through the compound, killing her mother. Now one of her artists has taken her own life after sending Virginia a last painting — one that makes Virginia doubt everything about the so-called suicide and her own past.

THE TRUST

Ronald H. Balson

INTERNATIONAL BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"This top-notch thriller will keep readers riveted to the very last page. The Northern Irish setting will appeal to fans of Adrian McKinty and Stewart Neville, and the familial and political issues will attract psychological thriller addicts." — starred, Library Journal

The newest novel from the international bestselling author of Once We Were Brothers finds private investigator Liam Taggart reluctantly returning to his childhood home in Northern Ireland for an uncle's funeral, only to discover that not only was his uncle shot to death, but that he'd anticipated his own murder.

THE TRICK

Emanuel Bergmann

"Bergmann's ability to create appealing, well-drawn characters and tell a gripping story is impressive."

— starred, Library Journal

Recalling the melancholy humor of Isaac Bashevis Singer and the heartbreaking pathos of the film Life is Beautiful, this outstanding first novel is an irreverent yet deeply moving story about a young boy who believes in magic and a disillusioned old man who believes in nothing, as well as a gripping and heartfelt tale about the circle of life.

An Elvis Cole and Joe Pike Novel

Robert Crais#1 NEW YORK TIMES
BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"MWA Grandmaster Crais is at the top of his game."
—starred, Publishers Weekly
on The Promise

A single mother hires PI Elvis Cole because her troubled teenage son Tyson is flashing cash. She's afraid he's dealing drugs, but the truth is more devastating. With two partners in crime, he's committed a string of high-end burglaries — a crime spree that takes a deadly turn when one of them is murdered and Tyson and his girlfriend disappear.

THE WHISPERING ROOM

A Jane Hawk Novel

Dean Koontz#1 NEW YORK TIMES
BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"... this initial entry in a new series introduces a smart, appealing heroine who can outthink as well as outshoot the baddest of bad dudes." —starred, Kirkus Reviews on The Silent Corner

In the wake of her husband's inexplicable suicide — and the equally mysterious deaths of scores of other exemplary individuals — Jane Hawk picks up the trail of a secret cabal that thinks it is above the law and beyond punishment. Driven by love for her lost husband and by fear for the five-year-old son she has sent into hiding, Jane has become an unstoppable predator.

THE WIFE BETWEEN USGreer Hendricks and Sarah Pekkanen

"A fiendishly clever romantic thriller in the vein of Gone Girl and The Girl on the Train. This one will keep you guessing." —Anita Shreve,
New York Times bestselling author

When you read this book, you will assume you are reading about a jealous wife. You will assume she is obsessed with her replacement. Assume nothing. Read between the lies. Twisted and chilling, The Wife Between Us deftly explores the hidden complexities of marriage and the dangerous truths we ignore in the name of love.

GOOD ME BAD ME

Ali Land

INTERNATIONAL BESTSELLER

"Thrilling . . . a visceral read that's at once a gripping psychological thriller and a devastating exploration of the damage wrought by childhood trauma."
—starred, Publishers Weekly

Milly's mother is a serial killer. Though she loves her mother, the only way to make her stop is to turn her in. Milly is given a new identity with an affluent foster family, and a spot at an exclusive private school. But tensions rise, and she feels trapped by her shiny new life. Will Milly be good? Or is she bad? She is, after all, her mother's daughter.

THE BOMB MAKER

Thomas Perry

NEW YORK TIMES
BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"Plenty of character, plenty of emotion, plenty of insider expertise, but most of all plenty of irresistible momentum toward a fantastic climax." — Lee Child, #1 New York Times bestselling author of the Jack Reacher series

A bomb is more than a weapon. It is the bomber's prediction of human behavior — a performance designed to fool you into making one fatally wrong move. Thomas Perry introduces us to the dark corners of a mind intent on transforming a simple machine into an act of murder — and to those committed to preventing that outcome at any cost.

RADIO FREE VERMONT A FABLE OF RESISTANCE

Bill McKibben

NEW YORK TIMES
BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"In a time when smart comedy is essential to survival, McKibben's shrewdly uproarious and provocative fable of resistance is exhilarating." — starred, Booklist

As the host of Radio Free Vermont — broadcast from an "undisclosed and double-secret location" — seventy-two-year-old Vern Barclay advocates for a simple yet radical idea: an independent Vermont. Witty, biting, and terrifyingly timely, Bill McKibben's debut novel is a fictional response to the burgeoning resistance movement.

The Sisterhood Series

Fern Michaels

NEW YORK TIMES
BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"Political intrigue, high-level high jinks, and characters with charisma to spare make this book a real crowd-pleaser. Michaels' long-running series dramatizing the clout of true friendship will also appeal to readers who enjoy other gal-pal stories."
— starred, Booklist on Game Over

Through all their adventures, the members of the Sisterhood have learned a vital lesson: everybody has a weak spot. For America's beloved songbird Garland Lee, it was trusting her lawyer. He took advantage of her to amass a secret fortune, and is dragging her into a lawsuit that could cost her everything. The Sisterhood can't let that happen.

NEVER COMING BACK

Alison McGhee

"[A] poignant meditation . . . Though this well-written story will appeal to a broad range of readers for its rich characterization, mothers and daughters will especially find Clara's and Tamar's story moving and memorable." — Publishers Weekly

When Clara left her rural Adirondacks town for college, her loving but fiercely independent mother all but pushed her out the door. Over a decade later Clara, a successful writer, is summoned home. Her mother's memory is declining, and she can't live on her own. But Clara's questions are building.

AND INDIEBOUND BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"Descriptions of Liv's disordered eating and self-harm never feel gratuitous or glorified; instead, her first-person narration provides both a mirror and window into an experience of bulimia. . . . Well done." — Kirkus Reviews

Olivia Blakley's sunny, charming facade hides a dark inner voice that will settle for nothing less than perfection. No matter who or what she has to give up to get there. Melissa de la Cruz's powerful new novel depicts one teen's battle with self-doubt and an eating disorder, and shows that the struggle to find someone to love starts with oneself.

RENEGADES

Marissa Meyer

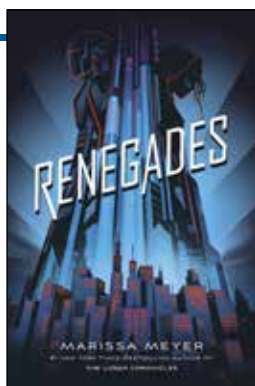

#1 NEW YORK TIMES
BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"... Meyer celebrates and subverts popular superhero tropes while mining the gray area between malevolence and virtue."

— starred, Publishers Weekly

The Renegades are a syndicate of prodigies — humans with extraordinary abilities — who emerged from the ruins of a crumbled society and established peace and order where chaos reigned. As champions of justice, they remain a symbol of hope and courage to everyone . . . except the villains they once overthrew.

Nova has a reason to hate the Renegades, and she is on a mission for vengeance. As she gets closer to her target, she meets Adrian, a Renegade boy who believes in justice — and in Nova. But Nova's allegiance is to the villains who have the power to end them both.

BEST PRACTICES: SOCIAL MEDIA CALENDARS

Rare is the library that is not engaging in some form of social media. More often, libraries have a presence on multiple social media channels in order to reach different audiences. Juggling Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, Pinterest, Tumblr, and YouTube can be daunting. (And the experts are still trying to figure out SnapChat.)

The social media world is a whirlwind of constant activity and connectivity. One of the greatest challenges I hear from library social media account managers is balancing content across multiple platforms. As the owner/operator of multiple channels, I've found one solution that helps — a social media calendar.

Let's make this a simple process. First, choose the type of calendar that works best for you. It can be as detailed as this calendar (<https://www.rebeccavandenberg.com/ultimate-2017-marketing-planning-calendar/>) and as plain as a Google calendar. Have a list of all the social media accounts for your library.

Next, plug in all the major holidays and any library "holidays" (Banned Books Week, National Library Week, Teen Read Week). Get a little closer to your community and list any dates of significance (founders' day, annual festivals or celebrations, community observances). Include any important dates for your library (annual Friends of Library book sale, first day of summer reading program, day library opened).

Step back and look at all the content you just plugged into your library's social media calendar. It will be far more full than you expected and now you have a plan for what and when to post to your library's accounts.

If the calendar doesn't look full enough for you, add library events such as story times, book clubs, board meetings, programs, after school activities, or computer classes. Have a little fun and add birthdates of favorite authors.

With all these ideas for content scheduled, it is much easier to craft the posts for multiple platforms and get accompanying photos or links to other websites. Having a schedule for the obvious material also frees up the library's social media staff to pay attention to trending topics relevant to the library's interests.

The most time-consuming part of the social media calendar is starting it. Adding to it will become easier once it's in place. Keep it open or available for all library staff so they can stay up to date on the library's social media posts and add their own ideas.

ALL THE UGLY AND WONDERFUL THINGS

Bryn Greenwood

NEW YORK TIMES AND
USA TODAY BESTSELLER

BOMC 2016 BOOK OF THE YEAR
ON MULTIPLE BEST BOOK LISTS

"Greenwood's powerful, provocative debut chronicles a desolate childhood and a discomfiting love affair . . . It's no storybook romance, but the novel closes on a note of hard-won serenity . . . Intelligent, honest, and unsentimental."
— starred, Kirkus Reviews

A beautiful and provocative love story about two unlikely people and the hard-won relationship that elevates them above the Midwestern meth lab backdrop of their lives, All the Ugly and Wonderful Things challenges all we know and believe about love.

KAITE SAYS

Here is a book that defies easy description but makes for absorbing reading. Bryn Greenwood's third, and breakout, novel will generate strong reactions in readers.

I spent an entire Saturday glued to this book when a friend suggested it to me. It has book club pick written all over it and is sure to generate lively discussion.

Wavy and Kellen's relationship is highly unusual, yet comprehensible, in the community in which they live. Greenwood challenges readers to think about how society views children and the amount of consent and control they have over their lives.

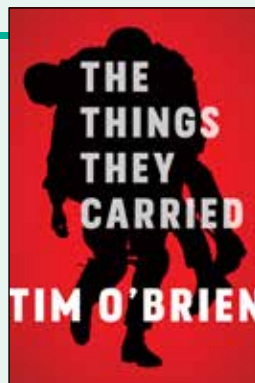

These are nuanced realistic characters with flaws and strengths. They will both delight and infuriate readers, just like real people we love.

FEATURED IN THE PBS SERIES
THE VIETNAM WAR BY KEN
BURNS AND LYNN NOVICK

"Rendered with an evocative, quiet precision not equaled in the imaginative literature of the American war in Vietnam." — Washington Post

Depicting the men of Alpha Company, The Things They Carried opened our eyes to the nature of war in a way we will never forget. It is a life-changing meditation on war, memory, imagination, and the redemptive power of storytelling. In the decades since its publication it has never failed to challenge our perceptions of fact and fiction, war and peace, courage, longing, and fear.

KAITE SAYS

"It feels true," is what I hear most from readers of this work of fiction. It is a compelling, atmospheric work that is both easy, and difficult, to read. O'Brien writes with brutal honesty and precision in sentences as simple and sharp as a fencing sword. It doesn't take much for the reader to connect to the young soldiers, bewildered and jaded by their time in the war-torn jungle.

There are pockets of grisly humor. An ill-timed song when a man is blown to pieces by a ground mine. The persistence of an experienced soldier pressing a newly minted grunt to shake hands with a corpse, and an elaborate revenge-fueled prank on a terrified medic.

O'Brien may be playing with the reader by constantly challenging the notion of truth and story. Readers will gladly accept the challenge to examine truth in fiction and war.

LOVEMURDER

Saul Black

"Black is a clever fellow, not least in Katherine's mental acrobatics on the concept of evil. . . . A high-grade thriller strong on character, police procedure, and page-flipping tension."

— starred, Kirkus Reviews

Six years ago, revulsion and fascination had gripped the nation as beautiful, intelligent, charming — and evil — Katherine Glass was convicted on six counts of murder. Now San Francisco Homicide detective Valerie Hart is looking at a corpse bearing all the hallmarks of Katherine's victims. And then there's the note. Addressed to Valerie.

HAPPINESS IS A CHOICE YOU MAKE LESSONS FROM A YEAR AMONG THE OLDEST OLD

John Leland

Happiness Is a Choice You Make, based on award-winning journalist John Leland's New York Times series, weaves the stories and lessons of six New Yorkers who number among the "oldest old" — those 85 and older. What Leland learns from the elders upends contemporary notions of aging, revealing the late stages of life as unexpectedly rich and the elderly as incomparably wise. Happiness Is a Choice You Make is an extraordinary look at what it means to grow old, and a heartening guide to "living better."

When the handsome Londoner Richard Smith disembarks onto the streets of 1746 Manhattan (population: 7,000), bearing a promissory note for 1,000 pounds (a considerable fortune at the time), he sets in motion this swashbuckling, ebullient homage to the picturesque novels of the eighteenth century. Smith is a charming, witty, enigmatic and multi-lingual gentleman who excels in the high society so brilliantly depicted here. The language is pitch perfect, the comedy sly and the plot twists taut as the story races to its tour-de-force conclusion."

THE HOUSE ON FOSTER HILL

Jaime Jo Wright

"Jaime Jo Wright is an amazing storyteller who had me on the edge of my seat, turning pages and reading as fast as I could to get to the end of the book!"

— Tracie Peterson

Kaine Prescott is no stranger to death. When her husband died two years ago, her pleas for further investigation into his suspicious death fell on deaf ears. In need of a fresh start, Kaine purchases an old house sight-unseen in her grandfather's Wisconsin hometown. But one look at the eerie, abandoned house immediately leaves her questioning that decision.

THE BONES WILL SPEAK

A Gwen Marcey Novel • Book 2Carrie Stuart Parks*CAROL AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR

"Once again, Parks has written a top notch forensic thriller. . . . Parks writes with an excellent balance of science, forensics, action and comfort." — RT Book Reviews

When Gwen Marcey's dog comes home with a human skull and then leads her to a cabin in the woods near her Montana home, Gwen realizes there's a killer in her community. And when she finds a tortured young girl clinging to life on the cabin floor, she knows this killer is a lunatic. Even more unsettling, the girl looks uncannily like Gwen's daughter.

THE QUILTING CIRCLE

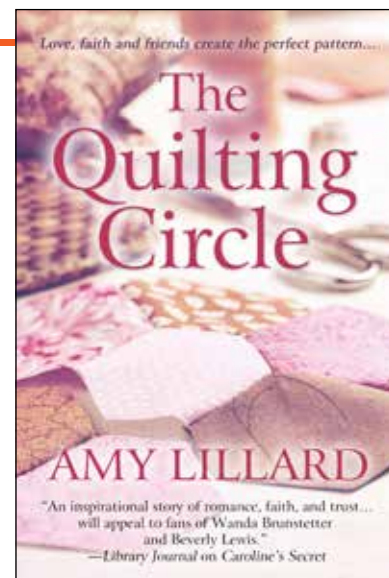

A Wells Landing Romance

Amy Lillard

CAROL AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR

"The Quilting Circle combines three satisfying stories in one book. . . . Lillard does a wonderful job giving her characters depth, and the challenges they face are believable and relatable." — RT Book Reviews (4 stars)

United by faith and bonded by their quilting circle, the Amish women of Wells Landing are there for one another. While planning her wedding, young Clara Rose resolutely ignores new feelings for her best friend. Recently widowed, Mariana discovers she's pregnant with twins. And newlywed Tess finds her marriage isn't the harmonious union she envisioned.

THE LOST ORDER

Steve Berry

NEW YORK TIMES
BESTSELLING AUTHOR

The Knights of the Golden Circle was the largest and most dangerous clandestine organization in American history. It amassed billions in stolen gold and silver, hidden all across the country. Since 1865 treasure hunters have searched in vain. Now two factions of what remains of the organization want that lost treasure — one to preserve it, the other to spend it for their own ends.

J. D. Robb

#1 NEW YORK TIMES
BESTSELLING AUTHOR

The chic Manhattan nightspot Du Vin is not a place Lt. Eve Dallas would usually patronize, and it's not the kind of bar where a lot of blood gets spilled. But that's exactly what happens one cold February evening. Now Eve must separate rumors from reality when a woman who traffics in other people's secrets is silenced. Eve didn't like Larinda Mars. But she likes murder even less.

LOVE STORY

The Baxter Family

Karen Kingsbury

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER

From the day they met, John and Elizabeth were destined to fall in love. Their whirlwind romance lasted nearly thirty years — until Elizabeth died of cancer. So when John Baxter is asked to relive the story for his grandson Cole's heritage project, he agrees and allows his heart and soul to go places they haven't gone in decades.

ROBERT B. PARKER'S REVELATION

Robert Knott

NEW YORK TIMES
BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Territorial marshals Virgil Cole and Everett Hitch thought things had calmed down in Appaloosa, until Augustus Nobel Driggs rolled into town. Built like a thoroughbred stallion, Driggs intimidates even from inside his prison cell. Now Driggs and a pack of cold-blooded convicts are on the loose — and it's up to any and all territorial lawmen to capture them.
