

IT'S WHAT YOU CAN DO TOMORROW

In 2014, Times 10 Publications' publisher Mark Barnes had an idea about three gigantic problems in schools that he felt could be easily fixed. What they needed was the perspective of a hacker—someone unaffected by the problem, who viewed its underlying issues from a different angle. Mark wrote a short blog post identifying the problems and included very easy fixes.

The post sparked thoughtful discussion, and someone suggested that schools have more concerns like the ones in the blog post—enough perhaps for a book. Sometime later, one short blog post turned into the first book in the Hack Learning Series, Hacking Education: 10 Quick Fixes for Every School.

In early 2018, Times 10 Publications' popular series, Hack Learning, became available as a professional development (PD) collection on Gale eBooks on GVRL.
