

Contents

Plan of the Series	xxiii
Introduction	xxv
Acknowledgments	xxviii
Permissions	xxx
Works by Robert Penn Warren	3
Chronology	8
Launching a Career: 1905–1933	20
Kentucky Beginnings	20
Facsimile : Pages from the Warren family Bible
An Old-Time Childhood—from Warren’s poem “Old-Time Childhood in Kentucky”
The Author and the Ballplayer—from Will Fridy, “The Author and the Ballplayer: An Imprint of Memory in the Writings of Robert Penn Warren”
Early Reading—from Ralph Ellison and Eugene Walter, “The Art of Fiction XVIII: Robert Penn Warren”
Clarksville High School	30
Facsimile : Warren’s essay on his first day at Clarksville High School
Facsimile : First page of “Munk” in The Purple and Gold , February 1921
Facsimile : “Senior Creed” in The Purple and Gold , April 1921
Writing for The Purple and Gold —from Tom Wibking, “Star’s Work Seasoned by Country Living”
Becoming a Fugitive	38
“Incidental and Essential”: Warren’s Vanderbilt Experience—from “Robert Penn Warren: A Reminiscence”
A First Published Poem—“Prophecy,” The Mess Kit (Food for Thought) and Warren letter to Donald M. Kington, 6 March 1975
The Importance of The Fugitive —from Louise Cowan, The Fugitive Group: A Literary History
Brooks and Warren at Vanderbilt—from Cleanth Brooks, “Brooks on Warren”
A Fugitive Anthology—Warren letter to Donald Davidson, 19 September 1926
Katherine Anne Porter Remembers Warren—from Joan Givner, Katherine Ann Porter: A Life
A Literary Bird Nest—from Brooks, “A Summing Up”
The Fugitives as a Group—from Ellison and Walter, “The Art of Fiction XVIII: Robert Penn Warren”
Facsimile : Page from a draft of John Brown
A Glimpse into the Warren Family	52
Letters from Home: Filial Guilt in Robert Penn Warren—from an essay by William Bedford Clark

Warren and Brooks at Oxford—from Brooks, “Brooks on Warren”
Facsimile: Warren postcard to his mother, April 1929

A First Book 60

Martyr and Fanatic: Review of John Brown—from Allan Nevins, The New Republic, 19 March 1930

“A Vivid Story”: Review of John Brown—from L. A. Harper, University of California Chronicle,
 July 1930

The “Higher-Law Man” and the Civic Order—from Hugh Ruppersburg, Robert Penn Warren and the American Imagination

Stumbling into “Prime Leaf”—from Ellison and Walter, “The Art of Fiction XVIII:
 Robert Penn Warren”

Warren’s “Briar Patch” 64

A Hamstrung View of Justice—from James E. Ruoff, “Robert Penn Warren’s Pursuit of Justice:
 From Briar Patch to Cosmos”

What Might Be Done: The Argument for the Negro in “The Briar Patch”—from John L. Stewart,
The Burden of Time: The Fugitives and Agrarians

A Pastoral Rebuke—from Louis D. Rubin, The Wary Fugitives: Four Poets and the South

A Return to Nashville 68

Happy Years—from “Robert Penn Warren: A Reminiscence”
Facsimile: Page from a draft for “The Apple Tree”

Poet, Teacher, Novelist: 1934–1950. 73

“A Marvelous Arrangement”—Warren letter to Katherine Anne Porter, 22 December 1934

Baton Rouge in the 1930s—Charles East, “Memories of Baton Rouge”

The Old War Skule 75

The Origin of the Southern Review—from essay by Cleanth Brooks and Warren

Writing, Editing, Teaching—Warren letter to Donald Davidson, 28 February 1935

LSU in the 1930s: Remembering the Boys Next Door—from Robert B. Heilman, “Baton Rouge and LSU Forty Years After”

The Swimming Man—Peter Davison, “Questions of Swimming, 1935”

Warren and Brooks at LSU—from Brooks, “Brooks on Warren”

Working on The Southern Review—from Brooks, “Brooks on Warren” and from Warren remarks in The Southern Review, Original Series, 1935–1942

Reviews of Thirty-Six Poems. 85

“The Uncertain Violence of Transition”—from John Holmes, “Five American Poets,”
Virginia Quarterly Review, April 1936

Problems of Knowledge—from Morton Dauwen Zabel, Poetry, April 1936

Understanding Literature. 87

Confronting a “Practical Problem”—from Brooks, “Forty Years of ‘Understanding Poetry’”

Warren as a Teacher in the 1930s—from Norton R. Girault, “Recollections of Robert Penn Warren as Teacher in the 1930’s”

Schoolroom Anthology: Review of Understanding Poetry —Eda Lou Walton, New York Herald Tribune Books , 28 August 1938
Practical Criticism and Understanding Poetry —from Monroe K. Spears, “The Critics Who Made Us”
The Value of Understanding Poetry —from John M. Bradbury, The Fugitives: A Critical Account
Night Rider	91
Tragic Liberal: Review of Night Rider —Christopher Isherwood, New Republic , 31 May 1939
Disclaimer—from Night Rider
History and Night Rider —from Ralph Ellison and Eugene Walter, “The Art of Fiction XVIII: Robert Penn Warren”
“Vivid, Sensuous Writing”: Review of Night Rider —from Philip Rahv, “A Variety of Fiction,” Partisan Review , Spring 1939
A Story Within a Story—from Warren letter to Allen Tate, January 1939
“A Notable Achievement”: Review of Night Rider —from Herbert J. Muller, “Violence upon the Roads,” Kenyon Review , Summer 1939
“The Power to Evoke”: Review of Night Rider —Anthony West, “New Novels,” New Statesman and Nation , 20 January 1940
Munn’s Search for Self-knowledge in Night Rider —from Alvan S. Ryan, “Robert Penn Warren’s Night Rider : The Nihilism of the Isolated Temperament”
The Father-Son Motif in Night Rider —from Randolph Paul Runyon, “Father, Son, and Taciturn Text”
Proud Flesh	98
Idealism and Rage in Proud Flesh —essay by John Burt
Facsimile : Page from Warren’s first draft of Proud Flesh
Facsimile : Francis Fergusson letter to Warren, 9 May 1941
Facsimile : First page for the typescript of Proud Flesh
Facsimile : Joseph Warren Beach letter to Warren, 5 February 1942
A Time of Transition	109
“Notable Virtues”: Review of Eleven Poems on the Same Theme —John Frederick Nims, “Two Intellectual Poets,” Poetry , December 1942
Facsimile : First page of Beach’s critique of Eleven Poems on the Same Theme
Christmas in Minnesota—from Warren letter to John Palmer, 24 December 1942, and Warren letter to Frank Owsley, 25 December 1942
At Heaven’s Gate	113
Mighty like Despair: Review of At Heaven’s Gate , Commonweal , 6 August 1943
Passionate Southern Eloquence: Review of At Heaven’s Gate —Caroline Gordon, New York Herald Tribune Weekly Book Review , 22 August 1943
The Shadow of Fact and Fiction—from Ellison and Walter, “The Art of Fiction XVIII: Robert Penn Warren”
Facsimile : First page of a typescript draft of At Heaven’s Gate
Facsimile : Page from typescript draft of At Heaven’s Gate
Luke Lea’s Empire: Review of At Heaven’s Gate —Malcolm Cowley, The New Republic , 23 August 1943
Writing by Feeling—“An Interview with Flannery O’Connor and Robert Penn Warren”

History and Idea in At Heaven's Gate—from Allen Shepherd, “The Poles of Fiction: Warren’s ‘At Heaven’s Gate’”

Selected Poems, 1923–1943 119

The Inklings of “Original Sin”: Review of Selected Poems, 1923–1943—John Crowe Ransom, Saturday Review of Literature, 20 May 1944

Shorthand for Poetry Reviewers—from Leonard Casper, Robert Penn Warren: The Dark and Bloody Ground

The Significance of “The Ballad of Billie Potts”—from William Bedford Clark, “A Meditation on Folk-History: The Dramatic Structure of Robert Penn Warren’s The Ballad of Billie Potts”

Facsimile: Warren letter to Lawrence Thompson, 21 September 1959

“A Poem of Pure Imagination: An Experiment in Reading” 123

Towards Objective Criticism: Review of Warren’s Essay on The Rime of the Ancient Mariner—Kenneth Burke, Poetry: A Magazine of Verse, April 1947

“The Bird-Church Business”—from Brooks letter to Warren, 5 June 1945, and Warren letter to Brooks, 8 June 1945

Facsimile: Frederick A. Pottle letter to Warren, 19 June 1945

On Writing Criticism and the New Criticism—Ellison and Walter, “The Art of Fiction XVIII: Robert Penn Warren”

All the King’s Men. 128

Introduction to All the King’s Men—Warren, Modern Library edition

Facsimile: Page from an early draft of the ending of All the King’s Men

The First Chapter of All the King’s Men—from “An Interview with Flannery O’Connor and Robert Penn Warren”

Facsimile: First page of the discarded opening chapter

Creating Jack Burden—from “An Interview with Flannery O’Connor and Robert Penn Warren”

In the Time of All the King’s Men—essay by Warren

“The Hardest Kind of Audience”—from Brooks letter to Warren, 13 July 1946

Facsimile: William Faulkner letter to Lambert Davis, 25 July 1946

Misreading Willie Stark as Huey Long—from Casper, Robert Penn Warren: The Dark and Bloody Ground

“The Problem of Presenting Anne Stanton”—from Warren letter to Donald Davidson, 9 October 1946

“The Dialectical Struggle of Good and Evil”: Review of All the King’s Men—Diana Trilling, “Fiction in Review,” Nation, 24 August 1946

A Teachable Novel—from Earl Wilcox, “Right On! All the King’s Men in the Classroom”

On the Nature of Things: Review of All the King’s Men—George Mayberry, New Republic, 2 September 1946

“High Craftsmanship”: Review of All the King’s Men—from Granville Hicks, “Some American Novelists,” American Mercury, October 1946

One of Three Novels—from Fergusson, “Three Novels”

Blackberry Winter and The Circus in the Attic. 150

“Blackberry Winter”: A Recollection—Warren, in Understanding Fiction

Facsimile : Page from a draft of Blackberry Winter
The Stranger as Mentor in “Blackberry Winter”—from James H. Justus, “Warren as Mentor: Pure and Impure Wisdom”
Fiedler on Warren’s Long Stories—from Leslie A. Fiedler, “The Fate of the Novel,” Kenyon Review , Summer 1948
Warren on Teaching	155
Hicks letter to Warren, 9 February 1947
Warren letter to Hicks, 18 February 1947
The Movie of All the King’s Men	158
Publicity Notes for All the King’s Men
World Enough and Time	162
Through the Iron Gates: Review of World Enough and Time —Carlos Baker, Virginia Quarterly Review , Autumn 1950
Facsimile : First page from an early draft of World Enough and Time
Erskine as Editor—from Warren letter to Brooks, 12 September 1949
Warren’s World Enough and Time : “Et in Arcadia Ego”—from essay by Richard G. Law
Facsimile : Page from the setting copy for World Enough and Time
Facsimile : Page from Warren’s notes for an unproduced television drama, “Don’t Bury Me at All”
The Yale Years: 1951–1973	170
Facsimile : First page of Warren’s lecture “William Faulkner and His South,” 13 March 1951
Conrad and Divorce—Warren letter to Albert Erskine, 27 May 1951
A New Life	172
Shared Lives—from Victoria Thorpe Miller, “Shared Lives and Separate Studies: The Literary Marriage of Eleanor Clark and Robert Penn Warren”
Writing at 2495 Redding Road
Eleanor Clark’s Books
Warren’s “Exile” at Yale—from C. Vann Woodward, “Exile at Yale”
Writings in the 1950s	179
Robert Penn Warren’s Savage Poem: Review of Brother to Dragons —Babette Deutsch, New York Herald Tribune Book Review , 23 August 1953
Facsimile : Page from Warren’s notes for Brother to Dragons
Finding the Form of Brother to Dragons —from “An Interview with Flannery O’Connor and Robert Penn Warren”
Facsimile : Page from a late draft of Warren’s introductory note for Brother to Dragons
Death of a Father—from Portrait of a Father
Facsimile : Page from a draft of Band of Angels
Souls Lost in a Blind Lobby: Review of Band of Angels —Carlos Baker, Saturday Review , 20 August 1955
Warren’s Confessional Novels—from Neil Nakadate, “Robert Penn Warren and the Confessional Novel”

Turmoil in the South: Review of Segregation—Mark Ethridge Jr., Saturday Review, 1 September 1956

Working Without Teaching—from Warren letter to Erskine, 5 August 1956, and Warren letter to Lon Cheney, 22 January 1957

The Stiff Smile of Mr. Warren: Review of Promises—James Wright, Kenyon Review, Autumn 1958
Facsimile: A handwritten copy of “The Necessity for Belief”

The Seriousness of Robert Penn Warren: Review of Selected Essays—Alfred Kazin, Partisan Review, Spring 1959

Criticism as Self-Definition—from Monroe Spears, “The Critics Who Made Us”

A Tale of Men Trapped in Their Own Darkness: Review of The Cave—Sam Hynes, Commonweal, 4 September 1959

On Trying to Be a Writer—from “An Interview with Flannery O’Connor and Robert Penn Warren”

Working in the Theater 202

Working with Robert Penn Warren—essay by Aaron Frankel Facsimile: Title page and a revised page from the working script for Willie Stark: His Rise and Fall

No Literature in Heaven—from “An Interview with Flannery O’Connor and Robert Penn Warren”

Warren’s Civil War 213

Warren’s Fascination with the Civil War—from R. W. B. Lewis, “Afterword,” Cleanth Brooks and Robert Penn Warren: A Literary Correspondence

Warren’s Southerner-Northerner Dialectic—from Lewis, “Robert Penn Warren: Geography as Fate”
Facsimile: First page of Warren’s summary of Wilderness

Wilderness as an Historical Myth—from L. Hugh Moore Jr., Robert Penn Warren and History

“How a Jellyfish Eats an Oyster”—from Warren letter to Cheney, 19 May 1961

An Altered Stand: Review of The Legacy of the Civil War—Richard M. Weaver, National Review, 17 June 1961

Last Years at Yale. 220

The Beginnings of Flood—from Richard B. Sale, “An Interview in New Haven with Robert Penn Warren”

An Exchange of Letters on Flood—letters to the editor, Lewis and Frederick C. Crews, The New York Times Book Review, 31 May 1964
Facsimile: First page from the setting copy for Flood

Warren’s “Calculated Risk”: Review of Flood—John Lewis Longley Jr., “When All Is Said and Done: Warren’s Flood,” Southern Review, Autumn 1965

Warren at the 1965 Southern Literary Festival: A Personal Recollection—essay by Robert W. Hamblin
Facsimile: Warren letter to Malcolm X, 27 May 1964

Warren’s Challenge to Race Dogma: Review of Who Speaks for the Negro?—C. Vann Woodward, New Republic, 22 May 1965

Who Speaks for the Negro? and the New Journalism—James A. Perkins, “Robert Penn Warren and James Farmer: Notes on the Creation of New Journalism”

Art and Breast Size—from Warren letter to Arthur Mizener, 8 November 1966
Facsimile: The first leaf from the manuscript for an unpublished novel titled “So Clear”

How a Poet Works—interview article by William Kennedy, The National Observer, 6 February 1967

Robert Penn Warren's Vision: Reviews of Incarnations: Poems, 1966–1968 and Audubon: A Vision —Stanley Plumly, Southern Review , Autumn 1970
Travel in Service to Work—passage from an essay by Gabriel Warren
On Audubon: A Vision —from Calvin Bedient, In the Heart's Last Kingdom: Robert Penn Warren's Major Poetry
Acute, Critical Eye Trained on “Wild Man” of American Letters: Review of Homage to Theodore Dreiser —William Parrill, Nashville Tennessean , 5 September 1971
The Enormous Spider Web of Warren's World: Review of Meet Me in the Green Glen —John W. Aldridge, Saturday Review , 9 October 1971
Facsimile : Page from a draft for Homage to Theodore Dreiser
Facsimile : Warren letter to Donald E. Stanford and Lewis P. Simpson, 27 September 1971
Facsimile : Page from a draft for Warren's introduction to William Faulkner's Light in August
Self-Discovery in American Literature: The Makers and the Making—from R. W. B. Lewis, “Afterword,” Cleanth Brooks and Robert Penn Warren: A Literary Correspondence
Last Walk of Season: 1974–1989	259
Facsimile : Page of a draft of Warren's tribute to John Crowe Ransom
Tribute to John Crowe Ransom—Warren, “John Crowe Ransom (1988–1974),” Southern Review , Spring 1975
America and Poetry	262
A Defense of Poetry for Our Time—from Monroe K. Spears, “The Critics Who Made Us”
State of the Nation: Review of Democracy and Poetry —Henry Nash Smith, TLS: The Times Literary Supplement , 20 February 1976
“A Nothing Which Is Everything”—“Interview with Eleanor Clark and Robert Penn Warren,” Fall 1978
“There Is Real Danger Of Dictatorial Power”—interview in U.S. News & World Report , 7 July 1975
The American Attitude Toward the Past—from Warren, “The Use of the Past,” 1977
On Warren's “Use of the Past”—from William Bedford Clark, The American Vision of Robert Penn Warren
In Love with America—from “A Conversation with Robert Penn Warren,” Bill Moyers' Journal , 4 April 1976
A Last Novel	269
Robert Penn Warren's Latest Celebration of the Years: Review of A Place to Come To —Seymour Epstein, Chicago Tribune , 6 March 1977
Facsimile : Pages from drafts for Warren's speech introducing Katherine Anne Porter, 18 October 1976
The Germ of A Place to Come To —from Carll Tucker, “Creators on Creating: Robert Penn Warren”
Facsimile : Page from Albert Erskine's critique of A Place to Come To
A Technician's Romance: Review of A Place to Come To —Richard Howard, Saturday Review , 19 March 1977
Grand Intentions—from Julian Symons, “In the Southern Style,” TLS: The Times Literary Supplement , 29 April 1977
Facsimile : First page of the setting copy for A Place to Come To

From Percy Munn to Jed Tewksbury—from Randy Hendricks, Lonelier than God: Robert Penn Warren and the Southern Exile

A Movie and an Opera—from Warren letter to Donald Stanford, 26 November 1977

Late Poetry 278

Rare Prosperities: Review of Selected Poems, 1923–1975—J. D. McClatchy, Poetry, December 1977

“Zestful but Minor”—from Symons, “In the Southern Style,” TLS: The Times Literary Supplement, 29 April 1977

Harold Bloom on “Evening Hawk”—from Bloom, Robert Penn Warren

Intimations of Immortality: Review of Now and Then—Paul Piazza, The Chronicle Review, 30 October 1978

The Grandeur of Certain Utterances: Review of Now and Then—Peter Stitt, Georgia Review, Spring 1979

Warren on Porter—from Monroe K. Spears, “The Critics Who Made Us”

Facsimile: Page from a draft of Brother to Dragons (A New Version)

William Meredith letter to Warren, 2 July 1979

Comparing the Versions of Brother to Dragons—Lewis P. Simpson, “The Concept of the Historical Self in Brother to Dragons”

Facsimile: Draft of “Grackles, Goodbye”

Robert Penn Warren’s Courage: Review of Being Here—James Dickey, Saturday Review, August 1980

Robert Penn Warren aet. 75—Malcolm Cowley, Georgia Review, Spring 1981

Celebrating Warren’s 75th Birthday—from Joseph Blotner, Robert Penn Warren: A Biography

Continuity and Change: Review of Rumor Verified—Irvin Ehrenpreis, Atlantic Monthly, December 1981

The Vatican Mantle: Review of Now and Then, Being Here, and Rumor Verified—Jay Parini, TLS: The Times Literary Supplement, 29 January 1982

A One-Shot Kill: Waiting for Chief Joseph—from Carll Tucker, “Creators on Creating: Robert Penn Warren”

Facsimile: Warren letter to Albert Erskine, 1 February 1982, and a page from the “Fourth Version” of Chief Joseph of the Nez Perce

Warren’s Meditation on Time—from Dickey, “Warren’s Poetry: A Reading and Commentary”

A Kind of Unconscious Autobiography: Review of New and Selected Poems, 1923–1985—Sister Bernetta Quinn, Southern Review, April 1985

Revising a Man into a Hero: Warren’s Chief Joseph—from Jonathan S. Cullick, Making History

Facsimile: Drafts of “Old-Time Childhood in Kentucky”

Where Poems Come From—from Alvin P. Sanoff, “‘Pretty, Hell! Poetry Is Life’”

Family and Community Poems—from Floyd C. Watkins, Then & Now: The Personal Past in the Poetry of Robert Penn Warren

Facsimile: Warren letter to Cleanth Brooks, 16 September 1983

Facsimile: Warren letter to Brooks, 7 August 1985

Last Years 324

All the Nation’s Poet—Time, 10 March 1986

Facsimile : Page from Brooks and Warren’s draft of an article on the founding of The Southern Review
Remembering Warren at the University of Minnesota—James Shannon, “Overdue Tribute to a Teacher Who Made a Lifelong Difference,” Minneapolis Star and Tribune , 7 September 1986
Reading and Teaching Poetry—from Sanoff, “Pretty, Hell! Poetry Is Life”
A Note of Thanks—Samuel Hynes letter to Warren, 25 March 1988
Facsimile : Page from a draft of Portrait of a Father
Legacy	335
Elizabeth Kastor, “Robert Penn Warren: A Voyage to the Heart,” Washington Post , 16 September 1989
Inviting the Future—from Lucy Ferriss, Sleeping with the Boss: Female Subjectivity and Narrative Pattern in Robert Penn Warren
Deep in the Blackness of Woods: A Farewell to Robert Penn Warren—essay by Peter Davison
Robert Penn Warren and the Southern Review —essay by Donald E. Stanford
Truthful Knowledge—Cleanth Brooks, “A Tribute to Robert Penn Warren”
Robert Penn Warren and the South—essay by Lewis P. Simpson
On the Death and Life of Robert Penn Warren—essay by James Olney
Places: A Memoir—essay by Rosanna Warren
For Further Reading	355
Cumulative Index	363