SHOOT FIRST

A Stone Barrington Novel

Stuart Woods

#1 NEW YORK TIMES
BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE #1 TITLE*"Woods creates another action-packed thriller for his readers to devour..." — Booklist*

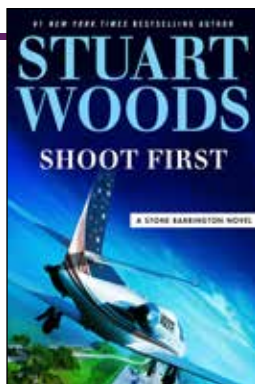

Stone Barrington is enjoying a round of golf in Key West when the game is violently interrupted — and the target may have been one of his companions, a brilliant businesswoman behind a cutting-edge software startup. Soon it becomes clear that this was only the start of a deadly scheme to push her out of the way and put her company's valuable secrets up for grabs.

THE IMMORTALISTS

Chloe Benjamin

#1 LIBRARYREADS PICK
#1 INDIE NEXT PICK
MIDWEST CONNECTIONS PICK

"Both thought-provoking and entertaining, this title is highly recommended for a wide range of readers."

— starred, Library Journal

It's 1969 in New York City's Lower East Side, and word has spread of the arrival of a mystical woman, a traveling psychic who claims to be able to tell anyone the day they will die. The Gold children — four adolescents on the cusp of self-awareness — sneak out to hear their fortunes. A sweeping novel of remarkable ambition and depth, The Immortalists probes the line between destiny and choice, reality and illusion, this world and the next.

ELMET

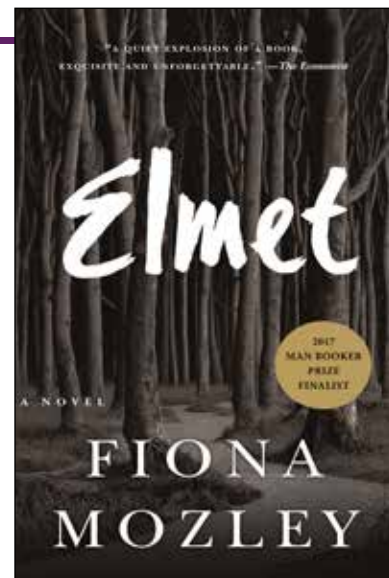

Fiona Mozley

INDIE NEXT PICK

FINALIST FOR THE 2017 MAN BOOKER PRIZE

"Part fairy tale, part coming-of-age story, part revenge tragedy with literary connections, Mozley's first novel is a shape-shifting, lyrical, but dark parable of life off the grid in modern Britain." — starred, Kirkus Reviews

The family thought the little house they had made in Elmet, Yorkshire, was theirs, that their peaceful, self-sufficient life was safe. Cathy and Daniel roamed the woods while their father built things and hunted. Sometimes he disappeared to do secret, brutal work for money. Narrated by Daniel after a catastrophic event, Elmet mesmerizes even as it becomes clear their solitary idyll won't last.

A TREACHEROUS CURSE

A Veronica Speedwell Mystery
Deanna Raybourn

NEW YORK TIMES
BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"Exhilarating . . . In audacious, decidedly un-Victorian Veronica, Raybourn has created a delightful cross between real-life reporter Nellie Bly and Phryne Fisher." — Publishers Weekly

London, 1888. Victorian adventuress Veronica Speedwell can't resist a mystery — particularly one involving her enigmatic colleague, Stoker. His former partner has vanished from an archaeological dig with a priceless diadem. It's just the latest unfortunate event to plague the expedition, and rumors of a curse abound. But as sordid details and enemies emerge from Stoker's past, Veronica must undo a web of duplicity.

Peter Lovesey

CWA GOLD AND SILVER DAGGER
AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR

"Lovesey moves from one dexterously nested puzzle to the next with all the confidence of a magician who knows the audience won't see through his deceptions no matter how slowly he unveils them." — starred, Kirkus Reviews

Peter Diamond, British detective extraordinaire, must dig deep into Bath history to ferret out the secrets of one of its most famous (and scandalous) icons: Richard "Beau" Nash, who might be the victim of a centuries-old murder. But is Diamond on a historical goose chase? Should he actually be investigating a much more modern murder?

FIRE AND FURY INSIDE THE TRUMP WHITE HOUSE

Michael Wolff

INSTANT NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER

"Wolff presents an insider's look at the extreme dysfunction of the Trump administration in this searing real-life page-turner . . . this explosive account will undoubtedly remain a topic of conversation for the near future." — Publishers Weekly

The first nine months of Donald Trump's presidency were stormy, outrageous — and absolutely mesmerizing. Now, thanks to deep access to the West Wing, Michael Wolff tells the riveting story of how Trump launched a tenure as volatile and fiery as the man himself. Brilliantly reported and astoundingly fresh, Fire and Fury shows us how and why Donald Trump has become the king of discord and disunion.

WOMEN'S FICTION

24 hardcover titles each year for about $567.

THE FAMILY NEXT DOOR

Sally Hepworth

"With jaw-dropping discoveries, and realistic consequences, this novel is not to be missed . . ."

— starred, Library Journal

Essie's life looks idyllic: a loving husband, a beautiful house in a good neighborhood, and a nearby mother who dotes on her grandchildren. But few of Essie's friends know her secret shame: that in a moment of maternal despair, she once walked away from her newborn, asleep in her carriage in a park. Disaster was avoided and Essie got better, but she still fears what lurks inside her.

LITTLE BROKEN THINGS

Nicole Baart

"Full of twists and turns, this is a great addition to the recent surge in suspenseful domestic fiction."

— Booklist

I have something for you. When Quinn receives that cryptic text message from her older sister Nora, she doesn't think much of it. They haven't seen each other in nearly a year and their relationship consists mostly of infrequent phone calls and an occasional email. But when a haunted Nora shows up just hours later with a cowering, wide-eyed little girl, a chain reaction is set into motion that will change both of their lives forever.

John Hart

NEW YORK TIMES
BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"Hart continues to deepen his palette in this ambitious sequel, which is distinctive enough in story and tone to be read as a stand-alone." — Library Journal

The only writer to win consecutive Edgar Awards for Best Novel, John Hart returns to the world of his beloved novel, The Last Child. It's been ten years since the events that changed Johnny Merrimon's life and rocked his hometown to the core. Living alone on six thousand acres of once-sacred land, Johnny's only connection is his old friend, Jack. They're not boys anymore, but the bonds remain. What they shared. What they lost. But Jack sees danger in the wild places Johnny calls home.

Caitlin Doughty

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER

"Fantastic . . . [Doughty] gleefully punches holes in Western misconceptions and prejudices concerning death rituals in other countries . . . [her] skillful book will encourage debate on philosophical and moral preferences for posthumous care." — starred, Publishers Weekly

Fascinated by our pervasive fear of dead bodies, mortician Caitlin Doughty set out to discover how other cultures care for the dead. From Here to Eternity is an immersive global journey that introduces compelling, powerful rituals almost unknown in America, and expands our sense of what it means to treat the dead with "dignity."

THE DUCHESS

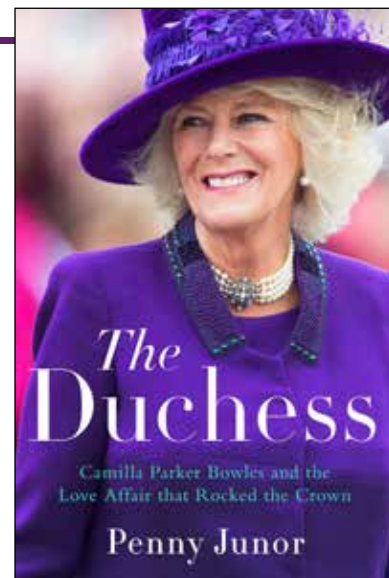

CAMILLA PARKER BOWLES AND THE LOVE AFFAIR THAT ROCKED THE CROWN

Penny Junor

"This book's depth and gentle commentary on a subject usually dominated by tabloid exposés should gratify those with an affectionate interest in Britain's monarchy."

— Publishers Weekly on The Firm

The first in-depth biography of Camilla, Duchess of Cornwall — the infamous other woman who made the marriage of Prince Charles and Princess Diana "a bit crowded." Esteemed royal biographer Penny Junor tells the extraordinary story of the woman reviled as a pariah who, thanks to numerous twists of fate, became the popular Princess Consort.

COMING TO MY SENSES

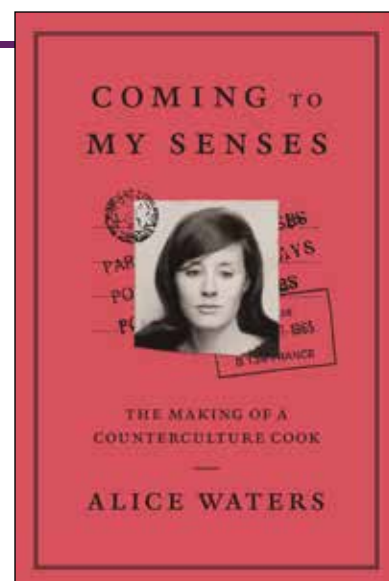

THE MAKING OF A COUNTERCULTURE COOK

Alice Waters with Cristina Mueller & Bob CarrauNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER*PUBLISHERS WEEKLY BESTSELLER*INDIEBOUND BESTSELLER

"Readers will be charmed by Waters's adoration of exquisitely prepared food. Her anecdotes and her descriptions of friends and customers bring the era and the restaurant to the mind's eye in vibrant detail." — starred, Publishers Weekly

When Alice Waters opened her "little French restaurant" in Berkeley in 1971, no one anticipated the indelible mark it would leave on the culinary landscape — least of all Alice, who now retraces the events that led her there.

Dotted with stories, recipes, photographs, and letters, Coming to My Senses is at once deeply personal and modestly understated, a quietly revealing look at one woman's evolution from a rebellious yet impressionable follower to a respected activist who effects social and political change on a global level through the common bond of food.

BEST PRACTICES: 5 PODCASTS FOR READERS ADVISORS

It's a truth universally acknowledged among readers' advisors — we can't read everything.

We can't read or listen to all the books and sometimes, we can't read all the review sources in print and online that help us keep up with all the books we can't read!

One way I tackle the never-ending TBR pile is with podcasts. I like dropping in on bookish conversations with librarians, reviewers, publishers, and other professional readers. Listening to their takes on new bestsellers, under the radar backlist, and refreshing re-reads of classics helps me do two things — trim my own TBR pile and keep up with the books that buzz.

I also learn new ways to talk about books and hear about different elements of appeal from different readers. Maybe a podcaster and I have both read the same book, but possibly the podcaster is gushing about characteristics that didn't resonate with me as much as others. Now I have at least two ways to talk about a book to a potential reader.

These are the podcasts I keep in my listening library:

- All the Books (<http://allthebooks.libsyn.com>)
One of Book Riot's many podcasts and one of the most popular. Catch up on the newest releases every week with ultra-cool host Liberty Hardy.
- Book Cougars (<https://www.bookcougars.com>)
Chris and Emily are on the prowl for good reading and they'll take just about anything (but Emily is partial to cookbooks and chef memoirs).
- Book Squad (<https://reader.ku.edu/booksquadpodcast>)
Polli and Kate, two readers' advisory librarians from Lawrence (KS) Public Library, serve up book recommendations with a side of sass and shenanigans.
- Just the Right Book (<http://www.bookpodcast.com>)
Hosted by renowned independent bookseller Roxanne Coady listeners get publishing insights, book news, and interviews with A-list authors.
- So Many Damn Books (<http://www.somanydamnbooks.com>)
Christopher and Drew like books. And drinks. And frequently combine the two with fun banter about the publishing industry, their towering TBR piles, interviews with up and coming authors, and an eye for the backlist.

HEATING & COOLING 52 MICRO-MEMOIRS

Beth Ann Fennelly

"Fennelly packs a lot into each short piece, with some lighter in subject matter and others with a sudden punch-in-the-gut feel, weighted with existential exploration . . . Potent despite their brevity."

— starred, Library Journal

The 52 micro-memoirs in genre-defying Heating & Cooling offer bright glimpses into a richly lived life, combining the compression of poetry with the truth-telling of nonfiction in one heartfelt, celebratory book. From childhood recollections to quirky cultural observations, some wistful, some wry, these micro-memoirs build on one another to arrive at a portrait of Beth Ann Fennelly as a wife, mother, writer, and deeply original observer of life's challenges and joys.

KAITE SAYS

After you read this sexy and slim memoir, you will feel you've met your new BFF.

Beth Ann Fennelly's 52 page-length life musings are tart, sweet, poignant, snarky, witty and surprising with the occasional LOLs.

Yes, this is a book to be read in one sitting. But you'll just start rereading it the moment you've finished. And then you'll want to call your closest friends and share your own micro-memoirs while comparing notes with Fennelly.

Make this a book club choice. It will spark the liveliest conversations about politics, society, culture, aging, family, marriage, and friendship. It is the type of book readers will be glad to say they have read.

THE NAKANO THRIFT SHOP

Hiromi Kawakami

"A patient reader will be rewarded with memorable characters in a modern Japanese slice-of-life drama." — Booklist

From the author of Strange Weather in Tokyo comes this funny, heartwarming story about love, life, and human relationships among a delightfully offbeat cast of characters composed of the customers and staff of a second-hand shop in Japan. Animating each delicately rendered chapter in Kawakami's playful novel is Mr. Nakano himself, an original, entertaining, and enigmatic creation whose compulsive mannerisms, secretive love life, and impulsive behavior defy all expectations.

978-1-4328-4915-3 | $30.99 U.S.

General Fiction | Releases 3/21/2018

KAITE SAYS

There are a thousand stories in a thrift shop and they sit on every shelf, tucked tightly in corners, wedged between a priceless vintage porcelain ashtray and a worthless moth-eaten felt fedora.

The people who dust the intriguing objects have stories, too. In The Nakano Thrift Shop readers will meet timid Hitomi and brash, yet reserved, Takeo, the clerks. Mr Nakano is the enigmatic shop keeper with unusual wisdom (and occasional two-bit platitudes) to share with his young workers. Masayo, Nakano's wilfull, free-spirited sister, has her own knowledge to impart to Hitomi about life, love, and taking chances.

There's not a lot happening in the thrift shop, but the delightfully quirky characters and the whimsical tone of the book will wrap around a reader's soul like a fleece blanket and a pot of jasmine tea. Book clubs will delight in this warm and charming slim novel.

THE FLOATING WORLD

C. Morgan Babst

"A richly written, soak-in-it kind of book." — starred, Library Journal

As Hurricane Katrina approaches New Orleans, Cora Boisdoré refuses to leave. Her parents, Joe Boisdoré, an artist descended from freed slaves, and his white "Uptown" wife Dr. Tess Eshleman, are forced to evacuate without her. Thus begins a chain of events that leaves their marriage in shambles and Cora catatonic — the victim or perpetrator of violence mysterious even to herself. This dazzling debut novel is the Katrina story that needed to be told.

NOVEL OF THE YEAR

"The latest from McCormack is a beautifully constructed novel that blends Beckett's torrential monologues with a realist portrait of small-town Ireland. This is an intelligent, striking work." — starred, Publishers Weekly

On All Souls Day, the spirit of Marcus Conway sits at his kitchen table and recalls, in flowing, relentless prose, his life in rural Ireland. A vital, tender, death-haunted work by one of Ireland's finest contemporary writers, Solar Bones celebrates the unexpected beauty of life and of language, and our inescapable nearness to our last end.

David Barclay Moore

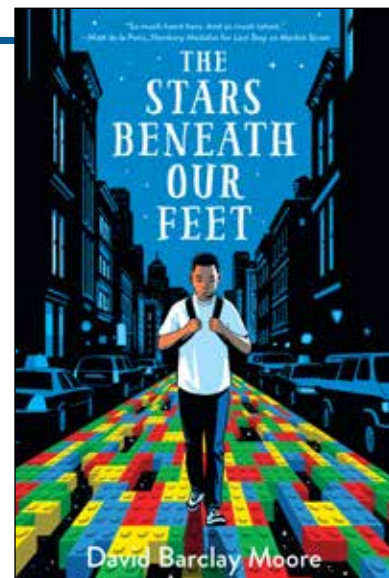

A PUBLISHERS WEEKLY BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR

RECEIVED SIX STARRED REVIEWS

MICHAEL B. JORDAN TO DIRECT A MOVIE ADAPTATION

"Moore delivers a realistic and at times brutal portrait of life for young people of color who are living on the edge of poverty. At the same time, Moore infuses the story with hope and aspiration . . ." — starred, Publishers Weekly

A boy tries to steer a safe path through the projects in Harlem in the wake of his brother's death in this outstanding debut novel that celebrates community and creativity. Moore paints a powerful portrait of a boy teetering on the edge — of adolescence, of grief, of violence — and shows how his inventive spirit helps him build a life with firm foundations and open doors.

COLDWATER

Samuel Parker

Having forfeited his youth to the state prison system, Michael moved back to the only home he'd ever known. A shell of a man living — if it could be called that — in the still-vacant house of his parents in a one-stoplight town. A town that hated him. Had always hated him. And was ready to pick up where the prison system left off. But the vigilantes behind him are nothing compared to the enemy within in this pulse-pounding, spine-rattling tale of vengeance and justice.

SPUR AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR

Between July 1875 and November 1883, a single outlaw robbed the stagecoaches of Wells Fargo in California's Mother Lode country a record of twenty-eight times. Armed with an unloaded shotgun, walking to and from the scenes of the robberies and leaving poems behind, the infamous Black Bart was fiercely hunted. Wells Fargo's legendary chief of detectives James B. Hume made Bart's apprehension a matter of personal interest, in a duel of wits involving two adversaries of surpassing cleverness.

STOWED AWAY

A Maine Clambake Mystery

Barbara Ross

"Ross knows her Maine coast and her snowstorms. Both provide an atmospheric backdrop for a cozy that, though a little heavy on genealogy, picks up its pace when its focus returns to the living and the newly dead." — Kirkus Reviews

It's June in Busman's Harbor, Maine, and Julia Snowden and her family are working hard to get their authentic Maine clambake business ready for summer. Then Julia's old prep school rival Wyatt Jayne invites her to dinner on her billionaire fiancé's decked-out yacht. Julia arrives to find a sumptuous table set for two — and the yachtsman dead in his chair. When suspicion falls on Wyatt, Julia's quest for the truth leads her into the murky private world of a mega-rich recluse who may not have been all that he seemed . . .

THE TASTER

V. S. Alexander

"This is a tale of friendship, bravery, faith and forgiveness that transcends many of the books written on the subject." — RT Book Reviews

In early 1943, Magda Ritter's parents send her to relatives in Bavaria to keep her safe from the Allied bombs strafing Berlin. Young German women are expected to do their duty — work for the Reich, or marry and produce strong, healthy children. Magda is assigned to the Berghof, Hitler's mountain retreat. After weeks of training, she learns her assignment: she will be one of several young women tasting the Führer's food, offering herself in sacrifice to keep him from being poisoned. Vividly written and ambitious in scope, The Taster examines the harrowing moral dilemmas of war in an emotional story filled with acts of extraordinary courage.

ONE PERFECT LIE

Lisa Scottoline

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER

"Scottoline grabs her readers by the jugular and won't let go."

— Library Journal

A handsome stranger moves to the small Pennsylvania town of Central Valley. He applies for a job as a teacher and coach at the high school. He looks perfect on paper. But everything about him is a lie. Enthralling and suspenseful, this is an emotional thriller and suburban crime story that will keep readers riveted to the shocking end.

THE CUTTHROAT

An Isaac Bell Adventure

Clive Cussler and Justin Scott

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER

"Cussler is a perennial A-list, popularity-wise, and his Isaac Bell novels are the pick of his prodigious litter." — Booklist

The year is 1911. Hired to find a young woman, Chief Investigator Isaac Bell of the Van Dorn Detective Agency gets a shock when her murdered body turns up. A manhunt leads him into more alarming territory: petite young blond women like her are being murdered across America. If Bell is right about his fears, he is on the trail of one of the greatest monsters of his time.

BEARTOWN

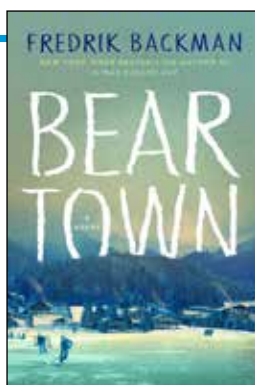

Fredrik Backman

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER

"A thoroughly empathetic examination of the fragile human spirit, Backman's latest will resonate a long time."

— Kirkus Reviews

Winning a junior ice hockey championship might not mean a lot to most people, but it means everything to the residents of Beartown, a community being eaten alive by unemployment and the surrounding wilderness. This emotionally powerful, sweetly insightful story explores what can happen when we carry the weight of other people's dreams on our shoulders.

— starred, Booklist

In a country teetering on the brink of civil war, two young people meet and embark on a furtive love affair. When the unrest explodes, they begin to hear whispers about doors — doors that can whisk people far away, if perilously and for a price. As the violence escalates, they decide that they no longer have a choice. Leaving their homeland and their old lives behind, they find a door and step through. . . .
