

CONNECT TEACHERS TO EVALUATION FRAMEWORKS WITH ONE CLICK

Easy. Cost-effective. Actionable. These aren't usually words associated with professional development (PD)—but they are now. Gale is advancing personal learning by offering alignments with the Danielson Framework for Teaching and the Marzano Focused Teacher Evaluation Model. Available through GVRL, Gale's eBook platform, these enhancements save time, promote wider usage, foster personalization, and make reaching domains and dimensions actionable. By adding these to your PD collection(s), you're offering teachers a voice and a choice to pick content aligned to the dimensions in need of critical focus.

EMPOWER SUCCESS WITH JUST IN TIME, PERSONALIZED PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT RESOURCES

BEGIN WITH A STRONG FOUNDATION

To help meet professional learning goals, a panel of teachers aligned many of Gale's publishing partners' PD collections with the Danielson Framework and the Marzano Model. This allows educators to match the exact alignment they need with an entire list of eBook titles that support them.

MEET PERSONAL AND GROUP GOALS

Support individual goal-setting and professional development plans with framework alignments. For example, a teacher who wants to learn more about demonstrating 21st-century skills in the classroom can search within the domains of the Danielson Framework or the Marzano Model to retrieve titles like Solving the Homework Problem by Flipping the Learning or Building Equity when searching ASCD Collection 11. Additionally, alignments can enhance school-wide instruction by supporting professional learning communities, school improvement plans, evaluations, and more.

CUSTOMIZE YOUR COLLECTION

Use Gale Admin to further align titles within your collection(s) to additional domains and dimensions. This works particularly well when trying to meet collective goals or when choosing to bring in titles from additional Gale collections that are not aligned. If you're looking to align to other frameworks or strategic objectives, please contact a Gale education consultant to help you find an effective solution that fits into your budget.
