

ANTI-TERRORIST TRAINING OFFERED BY DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

Security officers from Department of Energy (DOE) facilities which are or may be involved in nuclear power and nuclear weapons and explosives training in the use of special weapons and explosives. The special training is offered at the General Atomics Base in New Mexico. According to "2001 This Month," a DOE publication, the "solidly realistic course teaches the use of special weapons and explosives, how to respond to off buildings and how to negotiate with intruders and terrorists." The training is part of a plan by DOE to install special security units at all facilities involved in the handling of nuclear materials of weapons.

Children of War Tour

The Children of War Tour, planned for November 13-23 of 2001, will bring together 13 young people from war-torn areas around the world for a nationwide tour of public schools, religious and community centers. The tour is being organized by the Religious Taskforce of the Mobilization for Spiritual, and will bring together children ranging in ages from 12 to 15 from Northern Ireland, Somalia, Cambodia, Bosnia, and other conflict zones. The tour will also include a dozen United States children. A group will tour the US for two weeks, visiting and speaking with religious groups and community members about peace and conflict. The exchange is a curriculum component exploring the relationship between religion and war. The Religious Task Force, 85 South Central Ave., Thompson, (712) 898-0892.
