We are currently trialling this archive

American Amateur Newspapers
from the American Antiquarian Society
An extensive collection of amateur publications that were written, edited, and published primarily by young people (aged 12-20), with the majority published during the second half of the 19th century. This archive provides compelling insights into the ways teenagers and young adults viewed their hometowns, their country, and the world around them in the 19th century.

For information on this archive, visit gale.com/discoveramateurnewspapers

@GaleEMEA