EDITOR’S CHOICE #7 TITLE
Bix Bouton is 40, with four kids, restless, desperate for a new idea, when he stumbles into a conversation group, mostly Columbia professors, one of whom is experimenting with downloading or “externalizing” memory. Within a decade, Bix's new technology, “Own Your Unconscious” — that allows you access to every memory you've ever had, and to share every memory in exchange for access to the memories of others — has seduced multitudes. In spell-binding interlocking narratives, Egan spins out the consequences of Own Your Unconscious through the lives of multiple characters whose paths intersect over several decades.

AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR

“Romantic, terrifying, brutal, tender, and, in the end, sneakily hopeful. What a writer.” — starred, Kirkus

Protestant Mungo and Catholic James live in a hyper-masculine world. They should be sworn enemies if they’re to be seen as men at all, yet they become best friends as they find a sanctuary in the doocot James has built for his prize racing pigeons. As they begin to fall in love, they dream of escaping, and Mungo must work hard to hide his true self from those around him, especially from his elder brother Hamish, a local gang leader with a brutal reputation. When Mungo’s mother sends him on a fishing trip with two men behind whose drunken banter lie murky pasts, he needs to get back to a place of safety, a place where he and James might still have a future.

REESE’S BOOK CLUB PICK
AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR

Indian American journalist Smita has returned to India to cover a story, but reluctantly: long ago she and her family left the country with no intention of ever coming back. As she follows the case of Meena — a Hindu woman attacked for marrying a Muslim man — Smita comes face to face with a society where tradition carries more weight than one’s own heart. Smita also finds herself increasingly drawn to Mohan, an Indian man she meets while on assignment. The dual love stories of Honor are as different as the cultures of Meena and Smita themselves: Smita realizes she has the freedom to enter into a casual affair, knowing she can decide later how much it means to her.

An Auntie Poldi Adventure • Book 4
Mario Giordano

“Exceptional . . . Those who appreciate the intelligent silliness of S.J. Perelman will want to see more of the sexy, quick-witted Poldi, who won’t take guff from any man, including the pope.” — starred, Publishers Weekly

Strange dealings are afoot in the Apostolic Palace — a nun leapt to her death after participating in a routine exorcism, but when a priest and a Vatican commissario turn up at her door, Poldi is shocked to hear that she’s a suspect in their case. Poldi will need all the help she can get to clear her name, but her nephew has been distracted by a love affair, and her local friends seem to be avoiding her. Even Vito Montana balks when Poldi discovers that the case hinges on a lost Madonna statue, stolen years ago from the pope himself. Will Poldi be able to find the lost statue in time?

GREENWICH PARK

Katherine Faulkner

“With constantly growing levels of menace, this tension-filled novel will keep you guessing through its final revelations.” — starred, Kirkus

Helen's idyllic life — handsome husband, gorgeous house, and cherished baby on the way — begins to change the day she attends her first prenatal class and meets Rachel, an unpredictable single mother-to-be. Rachel smokes, drinks, and professes little interest in parenthood. Still, Helen is drawn to her. But Helen's friends and family begin to suspect that her new friend may be linked to their shared history in unexpected ways. When Rachel threatens to expose a past crime that could destroy all of their lives, it becomes clear that there are more than a few secrets laying beneath the broad-leaved trees and warm lamplight of Greenwich Park.

The Overstory is a sweeping, impassioned work of activism and resistance that's also a stunning evocation of — and paean to — the natural world. From the roots to the crown and back to the seeds, Richard Powers' 12th novel unfolds in concentric rings of interlocking fables that range from antebellum New York to the late 20th-century Timber Wars of the Pacific Northwest and beyond. There's a world alongside ours — vast, slow, interconnected, resourceful, magnificently inventive, and almost invisible to us. This is the story of a handful of people who learn how to see that world and who are drawn up into its unfolding catastrophe.

ROBERT LUDLUM’S THE TREADSTONE TRANSGRESSION
Joshua Hood

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR’S CHOICE #4 TITLE

The most pressing issue on Adam Hayes' mind is planning his son’s upcoming birthday party. After years of operating in the world’s most dangerous spots for Treadstone, he’s ready to call it quits, but Levi Shaw, Treadstone’s director, calls Hayes back for one more mission. “It’s a walk in the park. You don’t even have to go in with the strike team. I just need you to set up the safe house. You’ll be home in time to pick up the birthday cake.” But when the mission is blown, only Hayes is left alive, and everyone, it seems, is determined to correct that oversight.

THE YOUNGER WIFE
Sally Hepworth

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

“A warped tale, moving back and forward in time, full of “what is really happening here?” moments . . . With each domestic thriller, bestselling Hepworth shines brighter and draws in more readers.” — Booklist

Stephen Aston is getting married again. The only problem is, he’s still married to his first wife. Tully and Rachel Aston look upon Heather as nothing but an interloper. Heather is the same age as Rachel and even younger than Tully. Clearly she’s a gold digger and after their father’s money. Heather has secrets that she’s keeping close, and reasons of her own for wanting to marry Stephen. With their mother unable to speak for herself, Tully and Rachel are determined to get to the truth about their family’s secrets, the new wife closing in, and who their father really is. Will getting to the truth unleash the most dangerous impulses in all of them?

FOUR TREASURES OF THE SKY
Jenny Tinghui Zhang

ON 5 MOST ANTICIPATED BOOK LISTS

A propulsive and dazzling debut novel set against the backdrop of the Chinese Exclusion Act, about a Chinese girl fighting to claim her place in the 1880s American West.

Daiyu never wanted to be like the tragic heroine for whom she was named. When she’s kidnapped and smuggled from China to America, Daiyu must relinquish the home and future she imagined for herself. Over the years that follow, she’s forced to keep reinventing herself to survive. From a calligraphy school to a San Francisco brothel to a shop tucked into the Idaho mountains, we follow Daiyu on a quest to outrun the tragedy that chases her. As anti-Chinese sentiment sweeps across the country in a wave of violence, Daiyu must draw on each of the selves she’s been — including the ones she most wants to leave behind — to finally claim her own name and story.

THE SISTERS SWEET
Elizabeth Weiss

“Imaginative . . . Weiss explores the intriguing theme of a woman understood only in relation to others . . . [T]here are plenty of rich details, and each scene is well drawn. Weiss is clearly talented.” — Publishers Weekly

All Harriet Szász has ever known is life onstage with her sister, Josie. As “The Sisters Sweet,” they pose as conjoined twins in a vaudeville act conceived of by their parents, who were once themselves theatrical stars. After Josie exposes the family’s fraud and runs away to Hollywood, Harriet must learn to live out of the spotlight — and her sister’s shadow. Harriet tentatively forms her first relationships outside her family and begins to imagine a life for herself beyond the role of dutiful daughter that she’s played for so long. Finally, Harriet must decide whether to honor her mother, her father, or the self she’s only beginning to get to know.

WHEN TWO FEATHERS FELL FROM THE SKY
Margaret Verble
AMAZON EDITOR’S PICK

“From race relations to social class to working conditions, Verble addresses key issues while spinning her ghost story around the fictionalized employees of a park that actually existed.” — Library Journal

Two Feathers, a young Cherokee horse-diver, is determined to find her own way in the world. Two’s closest friend is Hank Crawford, who’s part of a high-achieving, land-owning Black family. Neither Two nor Hank fit easily into the highly segregated society of 1920s Nashville. When disaster strikes during one of Two’s shows, strange things start to happen at the park. At the same time, Two dodges her unsettling, lurking admirer and bonds with Clive, a World War I veteran, who’s haunted — literally — by horrific memories of war. To get to the bottom of it, an eclectic cast of park performers, employees, and even the wealthy stakeholders must come together.

THE CHURCHILL SISTERS
THE EXTRAORDINARY LIVES OF WINSTON AND CLEMENTINE’S DAUGHTERS
Rachel Trethewey
AMAZON EDITOR’S PICK

“This remarkable, sometimes tragic story of the daughters who supported their brilliant historical giant of a father will appeal to a broad range of readers . . . an engrossing and intelligent group biography.” — Kirkus

The Churchill girls — Diana, Sarah, Marigold, and Mary — were surrounded by a clan of larger-than-life characters which often saw them overlooked. While Marigold died too young to achieve her potential, the other daughters lived lives full of passion, drama, and tragedy. Diana, intense and diffident; Sarah, glamorous and stubborn; Mary, dependable yet determined. These women were eyewitnesses at some of the most important events in world history. This is an intimate saga that sheds light on the complex dynamics of family set against the backdrop of a tumultuous century.

QUEEN OF OUR TIMES
THE LIFE OF QUEEN ELIZABETH II
Robert Hardman

A definitive portrait of Queen Elizabeth II on the 70th anniversary of her reign by a renowned royal biographer.

Her Royal Highness Queen Elizabeth II has reigned through more seismic social change than any monarch since 1066. Yet she’s not merely hanging on. She’s a 21st-century global phenomenon commanding unrivaled respect and affection. And now she’s preparing for an event without parallel since the reign of Louis XIV: her Platinum Jubilee. On February 6, 2022, she marks 70 years on the throne. Robert Hardman wraps up the full story of one of the undisputed greats in a 1,000 years of monarchy. It’s a portrait of a world leader who remains as intriguing today as the day she came to the throne at age 25.

Small World is an epic novel for now. Set against such backdrops as the California gold rush, the development of the transcontinental railroad, and a speeding train of modern-day strangers, it’s grand entertainment that asks big questions. In exploring the passengers’ lives and those of their ancestors, Small World chronicles 170 years of American nation-building. And it does it with a fullhearted, full-throttle pace that asks whether it’s truly possible to meet, and survive, the choices posed — and forced — by the age. The result is a historical epic with a Dickensian flair, a grand entertainment that asks whether our nation has made good on its promises.

Madam
The Biography of Polly Adler, Icon of the Jazz Age
Debby Applegate

“... a rollicking examination of one of the country’s most sensational hostesses.” — starred, Publishers Weekly

Pearl “Polly” Adler was a dynamo whose Manhattan brothels in the Roaring Twenties were key gathering places where the culturati and celebrity elite mingled with high society and violent figures of the underworld. As a Jewish immigrant from eastern Europe, Polly Adler’s life is a classic American story of success and assimilation. Debby Applegate uses Polly's story as the key to unpacking just what made the 1920s the appallingly corrupt yet glamorous and transformational era it was and how the collision between high and low is the unique ingredient that fuels American culture.

Scott Carson
“Superior prose enhances a craftily twisted plot, which sticks its landing.” — starred, Publishers Weekly
Nick Bishop takes a job writing a profile of a new mindfulness app called Clarity. The app seems like a retread of old ideas — relaxing white noise and guided meditations. But then there are the “Sleep Songs.” A woman's hauntingly beautiful voice sings a ballad that is more of a warning than a relaxation — but it works. Deep, refreshing sleep follows. So do the nightmares. Vivid and chilling, they feature a woman who calls Nick by name and whispers guidance — or are they threats? As the effects of the nightmares permeate his waking life, Nick makes a terrifying discovery: no one involved with Clarity has any interest in his article. Their interest is in him.

“A clever and surprising psychological thriller . . . The superb character-driven plot delivers an astonishing, believable jolt.” — starred, Publishers Weekly
On an October morning in rural Maine, a homicide investigator pulls into the hard-luck town of Copper Falls. The local junkyard is burning, and Lizzie Oullette is dead. Detective Ian Bird's inquiries lead him away from small-town Maine to a city townhouse several hours south. Adrienne Richards, social media influencer and wife of a disgraced billionaire, had been renting Lizzie's lake house as a country getaway. As Adrienne’s connection to the case becomes clear, so too does her connection to Lizzie. Each woman is desperately lonely in her own way, and they navigate a relationship that cuts across class boundaries: transactional, complicated, and, finally, deadly.

DIAMOND AND THE EYE
A Detective Peter Diamond Mystery
Peter Lovesey
AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR
"Move over, Detective Superintendent Peter Diamond. The Avon and Somerset CID is about to be joined, jostled, and decentered by two other parties interested in an otherwise ordinary burglary." — Kirkus
If there’s one thing detective Bath Peter Diamond has no patience for, it's a dumb git trying to get involved in one of his investigations, but fate has saddled Diamond with this trial. A Bath antiques dealer, Septimus "Seppy" Hubbard, has disappeared without a trace, and his daughter, Ruby, has hired Johnny Getz to find him. When a dead body is discovered in Seppy’s locked-up store, the missing persons case becomes a murder investigation, and now Diamond has to collaborate with the insufferable private eye.

Cat in the Stacks Mystery
Miranda James
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
Librarian Charlie Harris and his faithful feline companion, Diesel, have inherited Charlie's grandfather's house, along with a deadly legacy: a decades-old crime scene.
Charlie always believed his grandfather sold his house to his tenant Martin Hale. So when Martin dies, Charlie is surprised to discover the house instead belongs to Charlie. As he and Diesel check out the house, they find a literal skeleton in a closet. While the sheriff's department investigates, Charlie digs for clues to the identity of the bones and why they are there. As Charlie delves into his own family history, he encounters many people who might have been motivated to take a life. But Charlie and Diesel know that secrets seemingly lost to time have a way of finding their way back to haunt the present.

MURDER IN AN ENGLISH GLADE
A Beryl and Edwina Mystery
Jessica Ellicott
"Ellicott does a good job conveying the fluidity of the British social order after WWI and how the paucity of men opened many opportunities for women."
— Publishers Weekly
When Constance Maitland seeks to hire Beryl and Edwina for a sham investigation into an alleged dalliance by her sister-in-law Ursula to quell potentially scandalous accusations by an unstable cousin, it's with mixed feelings that they agree to pose as guests at her home. When the painter suspected of having an affair with Ursula is found strangled, the pretense turns into a genuine murder enquiry. Beryl and Edwina must determine if they're dealing with a crime of passion or if there are more complex motives in play. In any case, the intrepid sleuths will not leave until they’ve smoked out the real killer.

Anna is at a stage of her life when she's beginning to wonder who she really is. In her 40s, she's separated from her husband, her daughter is all grown up, and her mother — the only parent who raised her — is dead. Searching through her mother's belongings one day, Anna finds clues about the African father she never knew. His student diaries chronicle his involvement in radical politics in 1970s London. Anna discovers that he eventually became the president — some would say dictator — of a small nation in West Africa. And he's still alive. When Anna decides to track her father down, a journey begins that is disarmingly moving, funny, and fascinating.

“The author knows how to keep readers reading—suspense, excitement, gunplay, villains busy about their villainy, plus a love interest or two, and a surprise ending. This 1880s Western provides a good evening’s entertainment for buffs.” — Library Jornal

Billy Cambridge is a Texas lawyer 'round about 1887, but in his younger days, he was a Texas Ranger. Entrusted with transporting $20,000 across northern Texas, he enlists the aid of his ranch foreman, Nacho Graves. Both expect an uneventful trip but lay that thought to rest when their stage is held up by six bandits who’ve been very active in the area lately but have managed to escape the law. Billy and Nacho, interested only in their own money, set out to find the gang. They do, through good detecting as much as tracking.

GREEN RIVER RENDEZVOUS

High Country • Book 2

Jason Manning

Zach Hannah will become a legend of courage, skill, and honesty among other mountain men. To the Crow Indians he's a trusted friend and ally. To the Blackfoot he's their most hated foe. And to former friend Sean Devlin, who lusts after Zach's beloved wife Morning Sky, he's a rival to be destroyed. The American Fur Company seeks to destroy the Rocky Mountain trappers who stand in the way of its scheme to monopolize the fur trade. With a hardbitten crew under his command and treacherous enemies shadowing his every move, Zach faces the most brutal brigade of hostile trappers ever to make the high country a killing ground.

Three Rivers Trilogy • Book 2

Preston Lewis

SPUR AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR

With Lincoln County teetering on the edge of lawless turmoil, rancher Wes Bracken avoids taking sides, but his goal is complicated by his devotion to what he sees as justice and by his friendship with William H. Bonney, who's developing a reputation as Billy the Kid. As Lincoln County devolves into explosive violence, Bracken's ranch is torched, and his wife is assaulted by notorious outlaw Jesse Evans. At every turn Bracken must fight against lawmen and a court system skewed to protect the powerful and politically connected. Against overwhelming odds, Bracken challenges the forces arrayed against him in hopes of a better life.

North Chastain possesses a paranormal talent that gives him the ability to track down the most dangerous psychic criminals. When his father suddenly falls into a coma-like state, North is convinced it was caused by a deadly artifact that traces back to the days of a secret government program known only as the Bluestone Project. When North approaches antiques expert Sierra Raines for help, she takes him on as a client and they soon find themselves at the scene of The Incident, which occurred decades ago in Fogg Lake. The town and its residents were forever changed by the disaster in the nearby Bluestone Project labs. The pair unearths shocking truths about what happened that fateful night, but they’re playing with fire — someone in town knows what they’ve discovered and will do anything to make sure the secrets stay buried.

“It’s a warped tale of twisted memories and skewed perceptions that will make fans of psychological thrillers say, ‘Wow, I didn’t see that coming.’” — Library Journal

From the outside, everyone might think Fern and Rose are as close as twin sisters can be. Rose is the responsible one, with a fierce desire to become a mother. Fern is the librarian who avoids social interaction and whom the world might just describe as truly odd. The sisters are devoted to one another and Rose has always been Fern’s protector from the time they were small. Fern needed protecting because their mother was a true sociopath who hid her true nature from the world, and only Rose could see it. What Rose doesn’t realize is that Fern is growing more and more aware of the secrets Rose is keeping and that their mother might have the last word after all.

Andromeda is a debtera — an exorcist hired to cleanse households of the Evil Eye. She would be hired, that is, if her mentor hadn't thrown her out before she could earn her license. Now her only hope is to find a rich, well-connected individual who will vouch for her abilities. When a handsome young heir named Magnus Rochester reaches out to hire her, she takes the job without question, but quickly realizes this is a job like no other and that Magnus is hiding far more than she’s been trained for. Death is the most likely outcome if she stays, the reason every debtera before her quit. But leaving Magnus to live out his curse alone isn’t an option because — heaven help her — she’s fallen for him.

BURNING QUESTIONS
ESSAYS AND OCCASIONAL PIECES, 2004 TO 2021

Margaret Atwood

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR

“Why do people everywhere, in all cultures, tell stories? How much of yourself can you give away without evaporating? How can we live on our planet? Is it true? And is it fair? What do zombies have to do with authoritarianism? In more than 50 pieces, Atwood aims her prodigious intellect and impish humour at the world, and reports back to us on what she finds. This roller-coaster period brought the end of history, a financial crash, the rise of Trump, and a pandemic. From debt to tech, the climate crisis to freedom; from when to dispense advice to the young (answer: only when asked) to how to define granola, we have no better guide to the many and varied mysteries of our universe.”

Anne Tyler

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR

“Tyler once again unravels the tangled threads of family life. This familiar subject always seems fresh in her hands because Tyler draws her characters and their interactions in such specific and revealing detail . . .” — Kirkus

The Garrets take their first and last family vacation in the summer of 1959. They hardly ever leave home, but in some ways they’ve never been farther apart. Mercy has trouble resisting the siren call of her aspirations to be a painter, which means less time keeping house for her husband, Robin. Their teenage daughters, steady Alice and boy-crazy Lily, could not have less in common. Their youngest, David, is already intent on escaping his family’s orbit, for reasons none of them understand. Yet, as these lives advance across decades, the Garrets’ influences on one another ripple ineffably but unmistakably through each generation.

#1 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

A United Nations relief team in a small village in the Congo makes an alarming discovery. An unknown force is leveling the evolutionary playing field. Men, women, and children have been reduced to a dull, catatonic state. The environment surrounding them has grown more cunning and predatory, evolving at an exponential pace. The insidious phenomenon is spreading from a cursed site in the jungle — known to locals as the Kingdom of Bones — and sweeping across Africa. Commander Gray Pierce and Sigma Force are brilliant and seasoned scientific warriors, but even they don’t understand what’s behind this — or know how to stop it. As they race to find answers, the team quickly realize they’ve become the prey and will have to risk their lives to uncover the shattering secret at the heart of the African continent.

Dark Fell Barn is a “perfectly isolated” retreat, or so says its website when Jayne books a reservation for her friends. A quiet place, far removed from the rest of the world, is exactly what they need. The women arrive for a girls’ night ahead of their husbands. There’s ex-Army Jayne, hardened and serious, but also damaged. Ruth, the driven doctor and new mother who’s battling demons of her own. Young Emily, just wed and insecure, the newest addition of this tight-knit band. Missing this year is Edie, who was the glue holding them together, until her husband died suddenly. What they hoped would be a relaxing break soon turns to horror. Upon arrival at Dark Fell Barn, the women find a devastating note claiming one of their husbands will be murdered. There are no phones, no cell service to check on their men. Friendships fracture as the situation spins wildly out of control. Betrayal can come in many forms. This group has kept each other's secrets for far too long.

LOST AND FOUND IN PARIS
Lian Dolan

Joan Blakely's artist father died on 9/11, and Joan has spent more than a decade maintaining his legacy. Life in the art world is beginning to wear on her and then one fateful afternoon her husband drops a bombshell: he's fathered twins with another woman. Furious but secretly pleased to have a reason to blow up her life, Joan impulsively decides to get out of town, booking a last-minute trip to Paris as an art courier. In flight, she chats up her seatmate, Nate, a good-looking tech nerd who invites her to dinner in Paris. He doesn't know she's carrying drawings worth hundreds of thousands of dollars. After a romantic night together, Joan wakes up to discover the drawings gone. Even more shocking is what's been left in their place: a sketch from her father's journals, which she thought had been lost when he died, and a poem that reads like a treasure hunt. With Nate as a sidekick, Joan will follow the clues all over Paris hoping to recover the lost art, and her own sense of adventure. What she finds is even better than she'd expected.

Tara M. Stringfellow

ON 7 MOST ANTICIPATED BOOKS LISTS

Summer, 1995. Ten-year-old Joan, her mother, and her younger sister flee her father's explosive temper and seek refuge at her mother's ancestral home in Memphis. As she grows up, Joan finds relief in her artwork, painting portraits of the community. One of her subjects is their enigmatic neighbor Miss Dawn, who claims to know something about curses, and whose stories about the past help Joan see how her passion, imagination, and relentless hope are, in fact, the continuation of a long matrilineal tradition. Joan begins to understand that her mother, her mother's mother, and the mothers before them persevered, made impossible choices, and put their dreams on hold so that her life wouldn't have to be defined by loss and anger, that the sole instrument she needs for healing is her paintbrush.

THE MAYFAIR BOOKSHOP
Eliza Knight
USA TODAY BESTSELLING AUTHOR
1938. She was one of the six sparkling Mitford sisters, known for her stinging quips, stylish dress, and bright green eyes. Nancy Mitford's seemingly dazzling life was really one of turmoil with a perpetually unfaithful and broke husband, two Nazi sympathizer sisters, and her hopes of motherhood dashed forever. With war imminent, Nancy finds respite by taking a job at the Heywood Hill Bookshop in Mayfair and discovers a new life. Present Day: When book curator Lucy St. Clair lands a gig working at Heywood Hill she can't get on the plane fast enough. Not only can she start the healing process from the loss of her mother, it's a dream come true. Doubly exciting, she brings with her a first edition of Nancy's work, one with a somewhat mysterious inscription from the author. Soon, she discovers her life and Nancy's are intertwined, and it all comes back to the little London bookshop — a place that changes the lives of two women from different eras in the most surprising ways.
