GOOD HALF GONE
A THRILLER
Tarryn Fisher
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
USA TODAY BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR’S CHOICE #4
Iris Walsh narrowly escaped her pretty, popular twin sister’s fate as a teen: kidnapped, trafficked, and long gone before the cops agreed to investigate. With no evidence to go on but a few scattered memories, the case quickly goes cold. Now an adult, Iris wants one thing — proof. And if the police still won’t help, she’ll just have to find it her own way; by interning at the isolated Shoal Island Hospital for the criminally insane, where secrets lurk in the shadows and are kept under lock and key. But Iris soon realizes that something even more sinister is simmering beneath the surface of the Shoal, and that the patients aren’t the only ones being observed.

EXPIRATION DATES
A NOVEL
Rebecca Serle
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR’S CHOICE #6
Daphne Bell believes the universe has a plan for her. Every time she meets a new man, she receives a slip of paper with his name and a number on it — the exact amount of time they will be together. She has been receiving the papers for over twenty years, always wondering when there might be one without an expiration. Finally, the night of a blind date at her favorite restaurant, there’s only a name: Jake. But as Jake and Daphne’s story unfolds, Daphne finds herself doubting the paper’s prediction, and wrestling with what it means to be both committed and truthful. Because Daphne knows things Jake doesn’t, information that — if he found out — would break his heart.

ANITA DE MONTE
LAUGHS LAST
A NOVEL
Xochitl Gonzalez
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR’S CHOICE #8
“Gonzalez crafts excoriating and whip-smart commentary on the art world’s Eurocentric conceptions of beauty and the racism faced by first-generation students of color. This is incandescent.” — starred, Publishers Weekly

1985. Anita de Monte, a rising star in the art world, is found dead in New York City. By 1998 Anita’s name has been all but forgotten — certainly by the time Raquel, a third-year art history student is preparing her final thesis. On College Hill, surrounded by privileged students, Raquel feels like an outsider. But when she becomes romantically involved with a well-connected older art student, she finds herself rising up the social ranks. As she attempts to straddle both worlds, she stumbles upon Anita’s story, raising questions about the dynamics of her own relationship, which eerily mirrors that of the forgotten artist.

EDITOR'S CHOICE #8
"Breathtaking and endlessly romantic. I love this book and know you'll love it too."
—Colleen Hoover
Wren Waters believes that if you pay attention, the universe will send you exactly what you need. But her worldview shatters when the universe delivers two life-altering blows she didn’t see coming, and all she wants to do is put the whole heartbreaking mess behind her. Enter Marshall Hendricks, a psychologist searching for distraction as he struggles with a life-altering blow of his own. Wren’s no longer quite so trusting of men in general, but what begins as a platonic road trip gradually blossoms into something deeper, and the more Wren learns about Marshall, the more she wants to know. Now all she can do is hope that the universe gets it right this time.

PIGLET
A NOVEL
Lottie Hazell
“Hazell debuts with the delicious narrative of a disastrous wedding.” —Publishers Weekly
Outside of a childhood nickname she can’t shake, Piglet’s rather pleased with how her life’s turned out. An up-and-coming cookbook editor, she’s got lovely, loyal friends and a handsome fiancé, Kit. One of the many, many things Kit loves about Piglet is the delicious, elaborate meals she’s always cooking. But when Kit confesses a horrible betrayal two weeks before they’re to be married, Piglet finds herself increasingly unsettled, behaving in ways even she can’t explain. Torn between a life she’s always wanted and the ravenousness that comes with not getting what she knows she deserves, Piglet is ready to look beyond the lies we sometimes tell ourselves to get by.

TAKE TWO, BIRDIE MAXWELL
Allison Winn Scotch
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
“Scotch balances wit and introspection beautifully throughout, peeling back her characters’ emotional layers.”
— Publishers Weekly

Birdie Robinson thought she’d gotten everything she wanted out of life: fame, adoration, and an A-list Hollywood career. But after an on-set feud goes viral, she leaves L.A. for her hometown. Elliot O’Brien, star reporter, has spent two decades repressing his feelings for his twin sister’s best friend, Birdie. But with his career cratering and Birdie back in their hometown at the same time he is, he realizes this may be his opportunity to right some wrongs. As they hit the road in an ancient RV, Birdie and Elliot grapple with whether happy endings are found only on the big screen — or whether their own happier ever after could be closer than they both ever imagined.

“A bittersweet novel of love gained, lost, and regained over the course of decades.”
— Kirkus Reviews

When Jack and Elizabeth meet as college students in the gritty ’90s Chicago art scene, the two quickly join forces and hold on tight, each eager to claim a place in the thriving underground scene with an appreciative kindred spirit. Fast-forward twenty years to suburban married life, and Jack and Elizabeth struggle to recognize each other. The no-longer-youthful dreamers are forced to face their demons, from unfulfilled career ambitions to childhood memories of their own dysfunctional families. In the process, Jack and Elizabeth must undertake separate, personal excavations, or risk losing the best thing in their lives: each other.

WOMEN OF GOOD FORTUNE
A NOVEL
Sophie Wan
“[A] cracking debut . . . The novel moves along briskly while dutifully adhering to the tropes of the heist genre, but this stands out for its unexpected depth” — Publishers Weekly

When Shanghai’s most eligible bachelor surprises Lulu with a proposal, the only acceptable answer is yes, even if the voice inside her head is saying no. The only people she can confide in are her two best friends: Rina, who is tired of being passed over for promotion, and Jane, a luxury-chasing housewife desperate to divorce her husband. Each of them desires something different. None of them can get it without money. Lulu’s wedding means enough cash gifts to transform the women’s lives. To steal the money, all they’ll need is a plan. But as relationships are caught in the crossfire, the women are forced to face that having it all might come at a steep price.

EDITH HOLLER
A NOVEL
Edward Carey

“A raucous romp through the world of early 20th-century theater . . . [T]he novel brilliantly probes the distinction between drama and real life, audience and performer, actor and character . . . A wonderfully strange and quirky tale about the power of penning and performing tales.” — Kirkus Reviews

The year is 1901. England’s queen has died, and her aging son has taken the throne. In the eastern city of Norwich, bright and inquisitive young Edith Holler spends her days among the boisterous denizens of the Holler Theatre, warned by her domineering father that the playhouse will literally tumble down if she should ever leave its confines. Fascinated by tales of the city she knows only from afar, she decides to write a play of her own. But when her father suddenly announces his engagement to a woman named Margaret Unthank, heir to the Beetle Spread fortune, Edith scrambles to protect her father, the theatre, and her play from the newcomer’s sinister designs.

THE SUNSET CROWD
A NOVEL
Karin Tanabe

“Tanabe paints Bea as a strong leading lady who understands the pitfalls of Los Angeles, and she makes the characters deliciously complicated over the course of their ever-shifting allegiances.” — Publishers Weekly

Meet LA darling Evra Scott. The daughter of an Oscar-winning director and a Brazilian bombshell actress, Evra is the city’s reigning style queen. Enter Theodora Leigh. The twenty-something Paramount assistant looks like a big screen star, but her sights are set behind the scenes, as she fights to become a movie producer in a town where sex and sexism sell. Observing it all is Bea Dupont, a photographer for Rolling Stone and Vogue. Bea holds Evra’s Sunset crowd together. But in Hollywood, no one stays on top forever. And it’s not long before Theodora’s unrelenting ambition sets in motion a dramatic quest for power in an industry as glamorous as it is duplicitous.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN VS. AMERICA ★★★
WHEN ART, SEX, AND POLITICS COLLIDED
Scott Eyman

“Distinguished research . . . propels this excellent biography that captures Chaplin, both the person and his work.” — starred, Library Journal

In the aftermath of World War II, Charlie Chaplin was criticized for being politically liberal and internationalist in outlook. Politics aside, Chaplin had another problem: He had been married three times and had had numerous affairs. His sexuality became a convenient way for those who opposed his politics to condemn him. In Charlie Chaplin vs. America, Scott Eyman explores the life and times of the movie genius who brought us such masterpieces as City Lights and Modern Times. This is a perceptive, insightful portrait of Chaplin and of an America consumed by political turmoil.

“[A] vastly entertaining and sure to be debated saga of money-making at its weirdest.” — Publishers Weekly
When Michael Lewis first met him, Sam Bankman-Fried was the world's youngest billionaire and crypto's Gatsby. CEOs, celebrities, and leaders of small countries all vied for his time and cash after he catapulted, practically overnight, onto the Forbes billionaire list. Who was this rumpled guy in cargo shorts, whose eyes twitched across Zoom meetings as he played video games on the side? In Going Infinite Lewis sets out to answer this question, taking readers into the mind of Bankman-Fried, whose rise and fall offers an education in high-frequency trading, cryptocurrencies, philanthropy, bankruptcy, and the justice system.

“[Goodell] provides an intimate look at the effects of our planet’s warming on individual lives . . . another stark, crucial reminder that we are running out of time to save humankind.” — starred, Kirkus Reviews
Heat is the first order threat that drives all other impacts of the climate crisis. And as the temperature rises, it is revealing fault lines in our governments, politics, economy, and values. The hotter it gets, the deeper and wider our fault lines will open. The Heat Will Kill You First is about the extreme ways in which our planet is already changing and the impact that will have on everything from our food supply to disease outbreaks. Goodell’s new book may be his most provocative yet, explaining how extreme heat will dramatically change the world as we know it.

HITCHCOCK'S BLONDES
THE UNFORGETTABLE WOMEN BEHIND THE LEGENDARY DIRECTOR’S DARK OBSESSION
Laurence Leamer
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
“Leamer excels at dissecting Hitchcock’s filmic genius and odd proclivities.” — Kirkus Reviews
Alfred Hitchcock was fixated by the blonde actresses who starred in many of his iconic movies. The lengths he went in order to showcase (and often manipulate) these women would become the stuff of movie legend. But the women themselves have rarely been at the center of the story, until now. In Hitchcock's Blondes, Laurence Leamer offers an intimate journey into the lives of eight legendary actresses whose stories helped chart the course of the troubled, talented director’s career. After all, “his” blondes knew the truths of his art, his obsessions and desires, as well as anyone.

THE DEATH OF US
A NOVEL
Lori Rader-Day

"[Rader-Day's] suspenseful family drama has good characterization, with motivations readers will identify with and find believable, even as the tension escalates." — Library Journal

One night fifteen years ago, a knock at the door changed Liss Kehoe's life forever. On that night, Ashley Hay handed over her brand-new baby Callan and was never seen or heard from again. Since then, Liss has raised Callan as her own. But she's always wondered whether Ashley is still out there somewhere. When Ashley does reappear, it's not in the way Liss expected. After all these years, Ashley's car has been found in the quarry pond on Kehoe property. What really happened on the night of Ashley's disappearance? As tensions rise in the small community, Liss must fight to protect her family and keep her own secrets hidden — or risk losing everything she loves.

THERE SHOULD HAVE BEEN EIGHT★
Nalini Singh
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

They met when they were teenagers. Now they're adults, and time has been kind to some and unkind to others — none more so than to Bea, the one they lost nine long years ago. They've gathered to reminisce at Bea's family's estate, a once-glorious mansion. Best friends, old flames, secret enemies, and new lovers are all under one roof. But as the walls close in, the pretense of normality gives way to long-buried grief, bitterness, and rage. Underneath it all, there's the nagging feeling that Bea's death wasn't what it was claimed to be. And before the weekend is through, the truth will be unleashed — no matter the cost.

THE BEST THAT YOU CAN DO STORIES
Amina Gautier
WINNER OF THE 2023 SOFT SKULL-KIMBILIO PUBLISHING PRIZE

“Gautier has a real gift for finding dignity and bravery in the lives of ordinary women.” — Kirkus Reviews

Primarily told from the perspective of women and children in the Northeast who are tethered to fathers and families in Puerto Rico, these stories explore the cultural confusion of being one person in two places — of having a mother who wants your father and his language to stay on his island but sends you there because you need to know your family. These stories place readers at the center of the table to enjoy family traditions and holidays: the resplendent and universal language of survival for displaced or broken families. It’s the characters-in-becoming that animate each story with special frequencies, especially for readers grappling with split-identities themselves.

MIRACLES AT PROMISE LODGE
Promise Lodge • Book 8
Charlotte Hubbard

Long-time residents of Promise Lodge welcome a wave of newcomers that includes Isaac Chupp, the handsome, charming son of a notoriously unyielding Bishop from nearby Coldstream. Isaac has recklessly rebelled against his dat, and his bad boy reputation precedes him. Now he seeks a fresh start, applying for work at Dale Kraybill’s bulk store. Proving himself reliable while Dale takes off for his wedding trip is Isaac’s bold first step. As summer turns to fall, Isaac discovers a kindred soul who has her own share of challenges. In helping her, he just may find his true purpose in loving selflessly, building up, and giving back.

KNITMARE ON BEECH STREET
A Knit & Nibble Mystery • Book 10
Peggy Ehrhart

When Pamela, Bettina, and their friends show up at the Voorhees House to greet its new owner, they're met with a most unwelcome sight: a dead body on the kitchen floor. Tassie Hunt just inherited the old Victorian, which had been occupied by a reclusive widow for many years and had a reputation for being haunted. But Tassie would have been unlikely to be spooked since her career involved debunking such paranormal phenomena. Her demise sets off a new flurry of gossip and ghostly speculation in the New Jersey town, but it won't take long before Pamela and Bettina are moving in on a killer.

PROTECTING HER HEART
Nancy Campbell Allen

“Readers will delight in this suspenseful Victorian mystery mixed with a slow-burn romance and will enjoy seeing many characters from other series installments play an integral role in solving the murder.” — starred, Library Journal

London, 1887. When Charlotte Duvall receives word that her father has died, she returns home to see to her family's estate. Among her father's possessions is a box of her late mother's letters, which contain some inconsistencies that suggest there was more to her mother's death than Charlotte had been told. She turns to her treasured friend and director of London's police force, John Ellis. John has harbored feelings for Charlotte ever since he first met her and is eager to help. As the danger draws ever closer, John vows to do everything in his power to protect Charlotte from harm. But he fears protecting her heart might come at the cost of breaking his own.

A COW HUNTER’S LAMENT AND OTHER STORIES
A WESTERN COLLECTION
Larry D. Sweazy

SPUR AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR

Award-winning novelist Larry D. Sweazy’s first published short story collection features eleven western stories, including a new short story, A Cow Hunter’s Lament. The stories are traditional westerns with a few that have underlying mysteries, as well as two that have supernatural elements, all written in Sweazy’s signature atmospheric style. All of the stories feature western characters challenged by the landscape and loneliness they exist in, overcoming adversity, with a respect for history, along with plenty of expected action.

THE STRANGE COURTSHIP OF KATHLEEN O’DWYER
Robert Temple

What would drive a woman in 1828 to head west across the Great Plains into the Rocky Mountains, risking death among hostile Native Americans, brutish mountain men, and wild animals? Why, the same reason as a man, of course — freedom. Like fur trappers of the early western frontier, Kathleen is a misfit. Growing up in the Irish slums of Boston and watching her mother die giving birth to a dozen children, Kathleen has decided to escape into a career as a schoolteacher, free of men; but when she sets out along the Santa Fe Trail, she finds that dry powder and steady aim are as important as reading, writing, and arithmetic.

IN DEFENSE OF DELIA
A SANGAMON NOVEL
Pat Stoltey

1838. Delia Pritchard gets a chilly reception when she returns to Sangamon, Illinois, after a thirteen-year absence. Some think she left at the age of sixteen because she killed her parents. It is also rumored that Delia runs with outlaws and that she shot a lawman. When Doc Hemmer insists Delia remain in Sangamon while she recuperates from surgery, he doesn't realize a vicious gang known as the Biedler brothers is on her trail. Farmer Annie Gray kills one of the Biedlers and triggers a violent response from the gang. Delia knows she brought this disaster down on the town and its residents. Can she save them all?

CITY IN RUINS
Don Winslow

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
Danny Ryan is rich beyond his wildest dreams. The former dock worker, Irish mob soldier and fugitive from the law is now a respected Las Vegas casino mogul and billionaire silent partner in a group that owns two lavish hotels. Danny has it all: a beautiful house, a child he adores, a woman he might even fall in love with. But when he tries to buy an old hotel on a prime piece of real estate with plans to build a dream resort, he triggers a war against Las Vegas power brokers, a powerful FBI agent bent on revenge, and a rival casino owner. Old enemies surface, and when they come for Danny they vow to take everything. To save his life and everything he loves, Danny must become the ruthless fighter he once was and never wanted to be again.

THE HUNTER
A NOVEL
Tana French

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
It's a blazing summer when two men arrive in a small village in the West of Ireland. One of them is coming home. Both are coming to get rich. One of them is coming to die. Cal Hooper took early retirement from Chicago PD and moved to rural Ireland looking for peace. He's built a relationship with a local woman, Lena, and he's gradually turning Trey Reddy from a half-feral teenager into a good kid going good places. But then Trey's long-absent father reappears, bringing along an English millionaire and a scheme to find gold in the townland, and suddenly everything the three of them have been building is under threat. Cal and Lena are both ready to do whatever it takes to protect Trey, but Trey doesn't want protecting. What she wants is revenge.

WHAT HAPPENED TO NINA?
Dervla McTiernan

Nina and Simon are the perfect couple. Young, fun and deeply in love. Until they leave for a weekend at his family's cabin in Vermont, and only Simon comes home. Nobody knows what happened to Nina. Simon's explanation of their last hours together doesn't add up. Nina's parents push the police for answers, and Simon's parents rush to protect him. They hire expensive lawyers and a PR firm that ramps up a vicious media campaign. Soon, facts are lost in a swirl of accusations. Everyone chooses a side, and the story goes viral, fueled by armchair investigators and conspiracy theories. Journalists descend on the Vermont town, followed by obsessive “fans.” Nina's family is under siege, but they never lose sight of the only thing that really matters — finding their daughter. Outgunned by Simon's wealthy, powerful family, Nina's parents recognize that if playing by the rules won't get them anywhere, it's time to break them.

THE FUNERAL LADIES OF ELLERIE COUNTY
A NOVEL
Claire Swinarski

Esther Larson has been cooking for funerals in the Northwoods of Wisconsin for seventy years. After an internet scam puts her home at risk, Esther is the one in need of help. Iris, Esther’s Gen Z granddaughter, watching her friends and family move away, feels left behind. But then Cooper Welsh shows up. Cooper is becoming a legal guardian to his younger half-sister after his beloved stepmother dies and is still hurting from a public tragedy he witnessed as a paramedic. It doesn’t seem like a community cookbook could possibly solve their problems, but when you mix the can-do spirit of Midwestern grandmothers with the stubborn hope of a boy raised by food plus a dash of long-awaited forgiveness—things might just turn out okay.

WATCH WHERE THEY HIDE
A JORDAN MANNING NOVEL
Tamron Hall

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

After dropping her child off at preschool, Marla Hancock disappears. She had recently left her verbally abusive husband in rural Indiana and moved in with her sister, Shelly, who can’t believe that her sister would willingly vanish without her children. But with limited support from the town’s police department or media resources, Shelly fears that Marla’s disappearance won’t get the attention it deserves. After filing a missing person’s report, she reaches out to TV journalist Jordan Manning for help. After her investigative and reporting skills helped solve multiple murders, Jordan’s career is on the rise. But Jordan feels pressure to prove herself as a young Black professional. When Shelly reaches out, she vows to do all she can to find Marla. Jordan’s search illuminates scandals and secrets that place her own life in danger.

AFTER ANNIE
A NOVEL
Anna Quindlen

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

When Annie Brown dies suddenly, her husband, children, and closest friend are left to find a way forward. Bill is overwhelmed without his beloved wife, and Annemarie wrestles with the bad habits her best friend had helped her overcome. And Ali, the eldest of Annie’s children, must grow up overnight, to care for her younger brothers and even her father and to puzzle out for herself many of the mysteries of adult life. Over the next year what saves them all is Annie, ever-present in their minds, loving but not sentimental, caring but nobody’s fool, a voice in their heads that is funny and sharp and remarkably clear. The power she has given to those who loved her is the power to go on without her. The lesson they learn is that no one beloved is ever truly gone.

STILL SEE YOU EVERYWHERE
Lisa Gardner
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
Kaylee Pierson confessed from the beginning, waived all appeals. She had called herself “death.” Despite the media’s chronicling of her tragic circumstances — the childhood spent with a violent father — no one could find sympathy for “the Beautiful Butcher” who had led eighteen men home from bars before slitting their throats. Now, with twenty-one days left to live, Pierson has received a lead on the whereabouts of the sister who was kidnapped over a decade ago, and she needs Frankie Elkin’s help to find her. Frankie takes on Pierson’s request. Twelve years ago, five-year old Leilani went missing in Hawaii. The main suspect? Pierson’s tech mogul ex-boyfriend. Now, on a remote island in the middle of the Pacific, fresh evidence has appeared. To learn the truth and save a young woman’s life, Frankie must go undercover at the isolated base camp.

THE BLACK BOX
WRITING THE RACE
Henry Louis Gates, Jr.
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
Distilled over many years from Henry Louis Gates, Jr.’s legendary Harvard introductory course in African American Studies, The Black Box: Writing the Race, is the story of Black self-definition in America through the prism of the writers who have led the way. From Phillis Wheatley and Frederick Douglass, W.E.B. Du Bois and Booker T. Washington, to Zora Neale Hurston and Richard Wright, James Baldwin and Toni Morrison — these writers used words to create a livable world — a “home” — for Black people destined to live out their lives in a bitterly racist society.

THE UNDERGROUND LIBRARY
Jennifer Ryan
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
When the new deputy librarian, Juliet Lansdown, finds that Bethnal Green Library isn’t the bustling hub she is expecting, she becomes determined to breathe life back into it. Katie Upwood is thrilled to be working at the library, although she is only there until she heads off to university in the fall. But after the death of her beau on the front line and amid family strife, she finds herself harboring a secret with no one to turn to for help. Sofie Baumann, a young Jewish refugee, came to London on a domestic service visa only to find herself working as a maid for a man who treats her abominably. She escapes to the library, finding friendship in the literary community and aid in finding her sister, who is still trying to flee occupied Europe. When bombs destroy the library, Juliet relocates the stacks to the local Underground station. But tragedy threatens to unmoor the women and sever the ties of their community.

HOW TO SOLVE YOUR OWN MURDER
A NOVEL
Kristen Perrin
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
It’s 1965 and teenage Frances Adams is at an English country fair with her two best friends. But a fortune-teller makes a bone-chilling prediction: Frances will be murdered. Frances spends a lifetime trying to solve a crime that hasn’t happened yet, compiling dirt on every person who crosses her path. For decades, no one takes Frances seriously, until nearly sixty years later, when Frances is found murdered. In the present, Annie Adams has been summoned to a meeting at the country estate of her wealthy and reclusive great-aunt Frances. But by the time Annie arrives in the English village, Frances is dead. Annie is determined to catch the killer, but thanks to Frances’ lifelong habit of digging up secrets and lies, it seems every villager has a motive for murder.

MEMORY PIECE
A NOVEL
Lisa Ko
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
In the early 1980s, Giselle Chin, Jackie Ong, and Ellen Ng are three teenagers drawn together by a shared sense of alienation. They envision each other as artistic collaborators and embark on a future defined by freedom and creativity. By the time they are adults, their dreams are murkier. As a performance artist, Giselle navigates an elite social world she never conceived of. As a coder thrilled by the internet’s early egalitarian promise, Jackie contends with its more sinister shift toward monetization and surveillance. And as a community activist, Ellen confronts the increasing gentrification and policing overwhelming her New York City neighborhood. Over time, from the 1980s to the 2040s, their friendship matures and changes, and their sense of what matters evolves.

HAS ANYONE SEEN CHARLOTTE SALTER?
A NOVEL
Nicci French
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
On the day of Alec Salter's fiftieth birthday party, his wife Charlotte vanishes. Most of the village of Glensted is at the party for hours before anyone realizes Charlotte is missing. While Alec brushes off her disappearance, their children, especially fifteen-year-old Etty, grow anxious as days pass. After Charlotte's coat is found by the river, they fear the worst. Then the body of the Salters' neighbor, Duncan Ackerley, is found in the river by his son Morgan and Etty. The police investigate and conclude that Duncan and Charlotte were having an affair before he killed her and committed suicide. Thirty years later, Morgan returns to make a podcast based on the tragedy. The town gets caught up in the unresolved cases. Allegations are made, secrets revealed, and a suspicious fire leads to murder. London sends Detective Inspector Maud O'Connor to Glensted to take over the investigation.

THE LOST BOOK OF BONN
A NOVEL
Brianna Labuskes
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
Germany, 1946: Emmy Clarke is a librarian, sent by the Library of Congress to Germany to help the Monuments Men retrieve and catalog literature that was plundered by the Nazis. The Offenbach Archival Depot and its work may get less attention than returning art to its rightful owners, but for Emmy, who sees the personalized messages on the inside of the books, it feels just as important. Emmy finds a poetry collection by Rainer Maria Rilke; on the title page is a handwritten dedication: “To Annelise, my brave Edelweiss Pirate.” Emmy is determined to hunt for the rightful owner. The investigation leads to two sisters, a betrayal, and a protest against the Nazis that was held in Berlin at the height of the war. Hundreds of women gathered in the streets after their Jewish husbands were detained by the Gestapo. Through freezing rain and RAF bombings, the women faced down certain death and did what so few others dared to do under the Third Reich. They said no.

MAKTUB
Paulo Coelho
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
Gathered from Paulo Coelho's daily column of the same name, Maktub, meaning “it is written,” invites seekers on a journey of faith, self-reflection, and transformation. As Paulo Coelho explains, “Maktub is not a book of advice — but an exchange of experiences.” Each story offers an illuminated path to see life and the lives of our fellow people around the world in new ways, allowing us to tap into universal truths about our collective and individual humanity. In these wise tales akin to Zen koans and other mysteries of the universe, there are talking snakes, old women climbing mountains, disciples querying their masters, Buddha in dialogue, mysterious hermits, and many saints.
