DIRTY THIRTY

A Stephanie Plum Novel • Book 30

Janet EvanovichNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE #1

Stephanie Plum, Trenton's most underappreciated bounty hunter, is offered a freelance assignment that seems simple enough. Local jeweler Martin Rabner wants her to locate his former security guard, Andy Manley, who he is convinced stole a fortune in diamonds out of his safe. Stephanie is also looking for Duncan Dugan, a fugitive from justice arrested for robbing the same jewelry store on the same day. As the body count rises and witnesses start to disappear, it won't be easy for Stephanie to keep herself clean when everyone else is playing dirty. It's a good thing Stephanie isn't afraid of getting a little dirty, too.

A CHRISTMAS VANISHING

A NOVEL

Anne PerryNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE #2

Mariah Ellison, Charlotte Pitt's grandmother, accepts her friend Sadie's invitation to spend Christmas with her and her husband, Barton. But upon arrival, Mariah discovers that Sadie has vanished without a trace, and Barton rudely rescinds the invitation. Once Mariah finds another acquaintance to stay with, she begins investigating. Did Sadie run off with another man? Was she kidnapped? It is up to Mariah to master her own feelings, drown out the noise, and get to the bottom of what occurred, all before Christmas day. With the holiday rapidly approaching, will she succeed in bringing Sadie home in time for them to celebrate — or is that too much to hope for?

THE FALL

THE END OF FOX NEWS AND THE MURDOCH DYNASTY

Michael WolffNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Meet the Murdochs and the family of Fox News. Until recently, they formed the most powerful media and political force in the land. Now their empire is crashing down. Drawing on years of access to the world of Fox, Michael Wolff plunges us behind the scenes of another empire of influence. Here is Rupert Murdoch, the ninety-two-year-old Australian billionaire concerned about his legacy but more concerned about profits. Here are his progeny, jockeying to take over. As lawsuits pummel the financial bedrock and reputation of the network, Wolff documents the final days of Fox News.

BLOOD LINES

Scott Brodie Series

Nelson DeMille, Alex DeMilleNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE #5

Army Criminal Investigation Agents Scott Brodie and Maggie Taylor have been tasked with investigating the murder of CID Special Agent Harry Vance, who had been stationed in western Germany and whose body was discovered in the heart of Berlin's Arab refugee community. As Brodie and Taylor work to discover what the murder victim was doing in the days and weeks preceding his death, they become immersed in the many conflicts and contradictions of modern Germany. Ultimately, Brodie and Taylor realize that the murder was merely the prelude to a much more sinister event — unless they can unravel the mystery in time to stop it.

THE BURNOUT

A NOVEL

Sophie KinsellaNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE #5

Sasha has had it. She cannot bring herself to respond to another inane email or participate in the corporate employee joyfulness program. She hasn't seen her friends in months. Sex seems like a lot of effort. Even cooking dinner takes far too much planning. Armed with good intentions, she heads to the seaside resort she loved as a child. But it's the off season, the hotel is in shambles, and she has to share the beach with a grumpy guy named Finn. When curious messages begin to appear, the two are forced to talk — about everything. How did they get so burned out? Can either of them remember something they used to love? And what does the energy between them signify?

BEING HENRY

THE FONZ . . . AND BEYOND

Henry WinklerNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE #8

Henry Winkler, launched into prominence by his role as "The Fonz" in Happy Days, has transcended the role that made him who he is. Brilliant, funny, and widely-regarded as the nicest man in Hollywood, Henry shares in this achingly vulnerable memoir the disheartening truth of his childhood, the difficulties of a life with severe dyslexia, the pressures of a role that takes on a life of its own, and the path forward once your wildest dream seems behind you. Filled with charm and self-deprecating humor, Being Henry is a meaningful testament to the power of sharing truth and kindness and of finding fulfillment within yourself.

MIDNIGHT AT THE CHRISTMAS BOOKSHOP

A NOVEL

Jenny Colgan

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Christmas comes early to McCredie's little Old Town bookshop in Edinburgh. It's summer, but an American production company has decided that McCredie's is the perfect location to film a Christmas movie. Carmen Hogan, the bookshop's manager, is a bit horrified by the goings-on, but the money the studio is paying is too good to pass up. She uses the windfall from filming to create new displays and fend off a buyout offer from a millionaire who wants to turn McCredie's into a souvenir shop. As snow begins to fall and the lights of Christmas blink on, new possibilities present themselves . . . for McCredie's and for Carmen herself.

THE PARIS AGENT

Kelly Rimmer

USA TODAY BESTSELLING AUTHOR

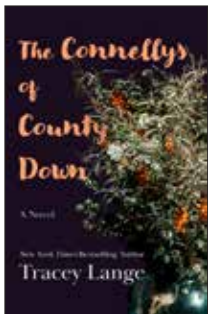

Twenty-five years after the end of the war, Noah Ainsworth is still preoccupied with those years as a British SOE operative in France. A head injury has caused frustrating gaps in his memory — in particular about the agent who saved his life. Moved by her father's frustration, Noah's daughter Charlotte begins a search for answers that resurrects the stories of Chloe and Fleur, the code names for two women whose lives intersect in 1943 when they're called up by the SOE for deployment in France. But as Charlotte's search for answers bears fruit, shocking events are unearthed from the last days of the war that lead to Chloe and Fleur's eventual fates.

INDIE NEXT PICK

JULY BOOK OF THE MONTH

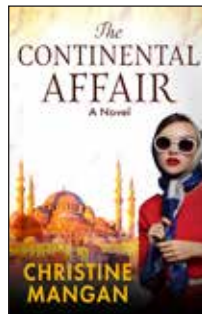

"A compassionate look at family dynamics and a reminder that it's never too late to heal." — Kirkus Reviews

When Tara Connelly is released from prison after serving eighteen months on a drug charge, she knows rebuilding her life won't be easy. With no money and no prospects, she returns home to live with her siblings, who are busy with their own problems. Her brother, a single dad, struggles with the ongoing effects of a brain injury, and her sister's facade of calm and order is cracking. While she works to build a new career and hold her family together, Tara finds a chance at love in a most unlikely place. But when the Connellys' secrets start to unravel, they all must face their worst fears or risk losing each other forever.

THE CONTINENTAL AFFAIR ★

A NOVEL

Christine Mangan

PUBLISHERS WEEKLY BESTSELLER

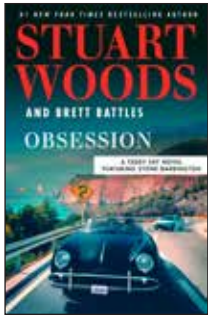

"Mangan's prose is evocative and specific — she brings midcentury Europe to life through sensory descriptions that conjure the sights, smells, and tastes of each iconic city."

— Kirkus Reviews

Meet Henri and Louise. Two strangers, traveling alone, on the train from Belgrade to Istanbul. Except this isn't the first time they have met. It's the 1960s and Louise is running. From her past in England, from the owners of the money she has stolen — and from Henri, the person who has been sent to collect it. Across the Continent — from Granada to Paris, from Belgrade to Istanbul — Henri follows, desperate to leave behind his own troubles. But Henri soon realizes that Louise is no ordinary mark. As the train hurtles toward its final destination, Henri and Louise must decide what the future will hold — and whether it involves one another.

STARLING HOUSE ★★

Alix E. Harrow

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"Harrow's . . . mash-up of twisted fairy tales and Southern gothic fiction is a haunting story of longing, lies, and generational curses." — starred, Library Journal

Eden, Kentucky, a town remarkable for a surprising amount of unexplained bad luck and natural disasters and the only known sightings of E. Starling, a nineteenth-century author whose only published book was considered almost as shocking as the author's mysterious disappearance. But Starling left behind one other thing: the imposing house that bears her name. Opal can't resist a chance to see inside. So when an opportunity arises, she jumps at it. But sinister forces are digging into the secrets of Starling House. As Eden itself seems to be drowning in its own ghosts, Opal realizes that she might have found a reason to stick around. And now she'll have to fight.

VAMPIRES OF EL NORTE ★

Isabel Cañas

LIBRARYREADS PICK

"Cañas . . . writes a rich, confident, and compelling story wrapped in an authentic and detailed frame, with a satisfying romance. The inclusion of vampires intensifies the unease and danger of life in this place and time."
— Library Journal

As the daughter of a rancher in 1840s Mexico, Nena knows a thing or two about monsters. Something sinister lurks near the ranch at night, something that drains men of their blood and leaves them for dead. Something that once attacked Nena nine years ago. Believing Nena dead, Néstor has been on the run from his grief ever since, moving from ranch to ranch working as a vaquero. But when the United States invades Mexico in 1846, the two are brought abruptly together on the road to war. The shock of their reunion is quickly overshadowed by the appearance of a nightmare made flesh. And unless Nena and Néstor face the future together, neither will survive to see the dawn.

STARTER VILLAIN ★★

John Scalzi

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
LIBRARYREADS PICK

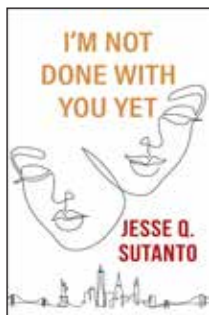

"[F]or those who enjoy seeing superhero stories folded, twisted, and mutilated and anyone wishing for a righteous villain lair surrounded by intelligent sharks." — starred, Library Journal

Charlie's life is going nowhere. A divorced substitute teacher living with his cat in a house his siblings want to sell, all he wants is to open a pub downtown. Then his long-lost uncle Jake dies and leaves his supervillain (complete with island volcano lair) business to Charlie. But Jake had enemies, and now they're coming after Charlie. His uncle might have been a stand-up, old-fashioned kind of villain, but these are rich, soulless predators. It's up to Charlie to win the war against a league of supervillains. But with unionized dolphins, hyper-intelligent talking spy cats, and a terrifying henchperson at his side, going bad is starting to look pretty good.

SOMEONE ALWAYS NEARBY

Susan Wittig Albert

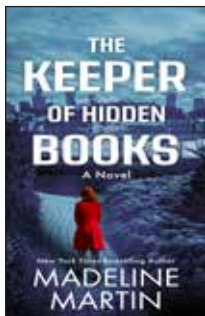

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

In 1940, art-world icon Georgia O’Keeffe bought a house in a mountain-rimmed New Mexico desert, planning to live there for six months every year. To manage her remote household while she paints, O’Keeffe invited Maria Chabot — a young and naïve would-be writer — to join her. Their tempestuous relationship endured throughout the chaotic years of WW2; the death of Georgia’s domineering, philandering husband (famed photographer Alfred Stieglitz); and Maria’s design and building of a remarkable adobe house and studio for the artist in the native village of Abiquiu — a generous gift from an exceptional friend.

A MEMOIR IN LOVE POEMS, LETTERS, RECIPES, AND REMEMBRANCES

Kwame Alexander

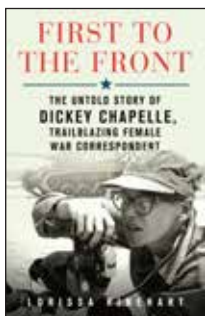

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

“A poetic and epistolary collage focused on familial, romantic, and nourishing love . . . This magnanimous hybrid-form memoir is rich with solace and wisdom.”
— Kirkus Reviews

In an intimate and non-traditional memoir, Kwame Alexander shares snapshots of a man learning how to love. He explores his difficulties as a newly wedded, 22-year-old father, and the precariousness of his early marriage working in a jazz club with his second wife. Alexander attempts to deal with the unraveling of his marriage and the grief of his mother’s passing while sharing the solace he found in learning how to perfect her famous fried chicken. With an open heart, Alexander weaves together memories of his past to try and understand his greatest love: his daughters.

THE LAST OUTLAWS
THE DESPERATE FINAL DAYS OF THE DALTON GANG
Tom Clavin

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

On October 5, 1892, the Dalton Gang attempted the most brazen heist of that era: robbing two banks in broad daylight in Coffeyville, Kansas, simultaneously. As the gang crossed the plaza to enter the two banks, the Daltons were recognized by townspeople. Citizens armed themselves with weapons from nearby hardware stores and were ready for the gang when they tried to leave the banks. The ensuing gun battle was a firefight of epic proportions. For the first time ever, the full story of the Dalton Gang's life of crime, culminating in this violent heist, are chronicled in detail.

VALIANT WOMEN ★★★★★
THE EXTRAORDINARY AMERICAN SERVICEWOMEN WHO HELPED WIN WORLD WAR II
Lena Andrews

"Readers interested in women's and military history, especially World War II events and experiences, will value this book." — starred, Library Journal

Valiant Women is the story of the 350,000 American women who served in uniform during World War II. They were pilots, codebreakers, chemists, translators, truck drivers, and more. Their work was at the heart of the Allied strategy that won World War II. Yet, until now, their stories have been relegated to the dusty shelves of military archives or a passing mention in the local paper. Now, military analyst Lena Andrews corrects the record with the definitive and comprehensive historical account of American servicewomen during World War II.

THE POSSIBILITY OF LIFE ★★
SCIENCE, IMAGINATION, AND OUR QUEST FOR KINSHIP IN THE COSMOS
Jaime Green

"Green's blend of scientific facts and science fiction reveals a sense of joy and wonder . . . Ultimately, Green's work reflects upon the nature of life and what it means to be human." — starred, Library Journal

One of the most powerful questions humans ask about the cosmos is: Are we alone? In The Possibility of Life, Jaime Green traces the history of our understanding, from the days of Galileo and Copernicus to our contemporary quest for exoplanets. Along the way, she interweaves insights from science fiction writers who construct worlds that in turn inspire scientists. Incorporating interviews, research, philosophical inquiry, and pop culture touchstones, The Possibility of Life explores our evolving conception of the cosmos to ask an even deeper question: What does it mean to be human?

THE ST. AMBROSE SCHOOL FOR GIRLS ★

A NOVEL

Jessica Ward

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"Mental health, friendship, loyalty, jealousy, corruption, and love all have a place in this highly recommended novel that takes readers on a roller-coaster of events and emotions that the characters experience."

— starred, Library Journal

When Sarah Taylor arrives at the exclusive St. Ambrose School, she knows she's not like the other girls — if the shabby, all-black, non-designer clothes don't give that away, the bottle of lithium hidden in her desk drawer sure does. St. Ambrose's queen bee, Greta Stanhope, picks Sarah as a target from day one and the most popular, powerful, horrible girl at school is relentless in making sure Sarah knows what the pecking order is. Sarah is determined not to give Greta the satisfaction of breaking her. But when scandal unfolds, and someone ends up dead, her world threatens to unravel in ways she could never have imagined.

HAVE YOU SEEN HER

A NOVEL

Catherine McKenzie

Cassie Peters has left New York City for the refuge of her hometown of Mammoth Lakes, California. She begins working again with Yosemite Search and Rescue, where a case she worked a decade ago continues to haunt her. She falls into old patterns, joining a group of fellow seasonal workers and young adventurers who have made Yosemite their home during the summer. She meets Petal, a young woman living in a trailer with her much older wife, and Jada, a recent college graduate on a cross-country road trip with her boyfriend. When these three women cross paths, Cassie's past catches up with her, and the consequences ripple out far beyond what any could have imagined.

THICKER THAN WATER

A NOVEL

Megan Collins

"A page-turner told from alternating points of view, this thriller from Collins . . . will especially appeal to those who enjoy exploring complicated female friendships." — Library Journal

Julia and Sienna Larkin are sisters-in-law, connected by Julia's husband and Sienna's brother, Jason. Recently, Jason has been putting in long hours to secure a promotion at work, so when his boss is found brutally murdered the Larkins are shocked and unsettled. A few days later, Julia and Sienna's lives are upended when Jason gets into a car accident and is placed in a medically induced coma. Worse, the police arrive with news that he's the prime suspect in the murder investigation. Sienna staunchly maintains her brother's innocence, but as their investigation uncovers a complicated web of secrets, Julia is less sure she's willing to defend her husband.

DEAD ON TARGET

An Agatha Raisin Mystery

M. C. Beaton with R. W. Green

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

A visit to the local village fete turns into a nightmare for Agatha Raisin when she discovers the body of the local landowner in the woods — with an arrow in his chest and trousers round his ankles. Agatha's old adversary, Detective Chief Inspector Wilkes, declares the death a tragic accident, believing the victim has been hit by a stray arrow from an archery demonstration. Agatha is convinced of foul play, however, and determined to find the killer, she launches her own investigation, quickly becoming involved with a family at war, an unscrupulous gangster — and a killer who is determined to make her the next victim.

LET IT CROW! LET IT CROW! LET IT CROW!

A Meg Langslow Mystery

Donna Andrews

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Meg has been roped into participating in a weaponsmithing competition, a Forged in Fire wannabe. She originally turned down an invitation, but the night before filming starts, someone attacks Faulk, Meg's blacksmithing mentor. Meg agrees to step in as his replacement, to the dismay of several blacksmiths who think women have no place in the profession. If the show's producers were hoping for drama, they're in luck. It's a cutthroat competition between people who wield large hammers and make swords and have forges full of fire at their disposal. What could possibly go wrong?

THE LATE MRS. WILLOUGHBY ★★
A Mr. Darcy & Miss Tilney Mystery
Claudia Gray

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"Gray continues her homage to Jane Austen with this sequel that wonderfully reimagines the lives of Austen's characters yet stays faithful to the spirit of the classic works." — Library Journal

Catherine and Henry Tilney are not entirely pleased to be sending their daughter Juliet out into the world again: the last house party she attended involved a murder — which Juliet helped solve. Elizabeth and Fitzwilliam Darcy are thrilled that their son Jonathan has been invited to stay with his former schoolmate, John Willoughby. Shortly thereafter, Willoughby's new wife dies horribly. Jonathan and Juliet must team up once more to uncover the murderer. But eerie incidents suggest that the killer may strike again and that the pair are in far graver danger than they could imagine.

A NOVEL
Spencer Quinn

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
USA TODAY BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"Mrs. Plansky is a wonderfully memorable heroine, full of wit and equally plausible as an ace tennis player and a motorcycle-driving detective with Romanian gangsters hot on her tail." — Publishers Weekly

Mrs. Loretta Plansky, a recent widow in her seventies, is settling into retirement in Florida. One night Mrs. Plansky is startled awake by a phone call from a voice claiming to be her grandson Will, who desperately needs ten thousand dollars to get out of a jam. Of course, Loretta obliges — after all, what are grandmothers for? By morning, Mrs. Plansky has lost everything. Law enforcement announces that Loretta's life savings have vanished and that it's hopeless to find the scammers. In a courageous bid for justice, Mrs. Plansky follows her only clue to a small village in Romania to get her money and her dignity back — and perhaps find a new lease on life, too.

DID YOU HEAR ABOUT KITTY KARR? ★

A NOVEL

Crystal Smith Paul

REESE BOOK CLUB PICK

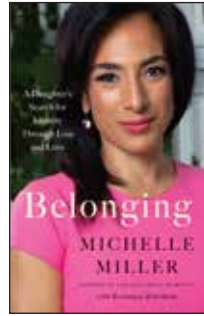

"Paul's novel highlights the burden and loss of racism by focusing on the color line and passing." — Library Journal

When Kitty Karr Tate, a white icon of the silver screen, dies and bequeaths her multimillion-dollar estate to the St. John sisters, three young, wealthy Black women, it prompts questions. Lots of questions. But what Elise St. John discovers in one of Kitty's journals rocks her world harder than any other brewing scandal could. The truth behind Kitty's ascent to stardom from her beginnings in the segregated South threatens to expose a web of unexpected family ties, debts owed, and debatable crimes that could, with one pull, unravel the all-American fabric of the St. John sisters and those closest to them.

BELONGING ★

A DAUGHTER'S SEARCH FOR IDENTITY THROUGH LOSS AND LOVE

Michelle Miller with Rosemarie Robotham

"An affecting narrative that explores race and racism while addressing deeply personal questions." — Kirkus Reviews

Though Michelle Miller was an award-winning broadcast journalist, few people knew her mother had abandoned her at birth. Los Angeles in 1967 was deeply segregated, and her mother — a Chicana hospital administrator who presented as white, had kept her affair with Michelle's father, Dr. Ross Miller, a married surgeon and Compton's first Black city councilman — hidden. Belonging is the chronicle of Michelle's quest to connect with the woman who gave her life and to find her voice as a journalist, wife, and mother. What emerges is an intimate story about the secrets that make us who we are.

Rita Todacheene is a forensic photographer working for the Albuquerque police force. Her photography skills have cracked many cases — she is almost supernaturally good at capturing details. In fact, Rita has been hiding a secret: she sees the ghosts of crime victims who point her toward the clues that other investigators overlook. When Rita is sent to photograph the scene of a supposed suicide on a highway overpass, the furious, discombobulated ghost of the victim — who insists she was murdered — latches onto Rita, forcing her on a quest for revenge against her killers, and Rita finds herself in the crosshairs of one of Albuquerque's most dangerous cartels.

SUNSHINE NAILS

A NOVEL

Mai Nguyen

"Nguyen imbues her characters with humanity and nuance, making hay from all their imperfections. Readers are in for a treat." — Publishers Weekly

Vietnamese refugees Debbie and Phil Tran have built a life for themselves in Toronto with their family nail salon. But when a glam chain salon opens across the street, their world is rocked. Complicating matters, their landlord has jacked up the rent and it seems only a matter of time before they lose everything they've built. They enlist the help of their daughter, Jessica, who has just returned home. Together with their son, Dustin, and niece, Thuy, they devise some good old-fashioned sabotage. Relationships are put to the test as the line between right and wrong gets blurred. Debbie and Phil must choose: do they keep their family intact or fight for their salon?

CHRISTMAS EVERY DAY

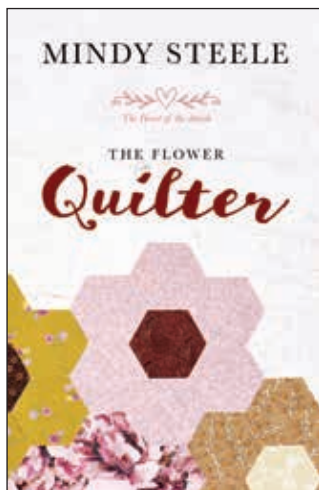

AN AMISH ROMANCE

Linda Byler

Annie and Fannie are ten-year-old twins and the youngest of twelve siblings. Life is busy with so many living under the same roof, and they often feel overlooked. It's no fun being bossed around by older siblings, and Mam is often stressed and always strict. As Christmas approaches, the twins have the added burden of practicing for their little Amish school's play, but what they're really passionate about is getting a pony or horse. It's all they can think about. Well, that and the way their thirty-year-old brother Mike is swooning over fancy Miriam. Will he ever get up the courage to ask her to be his girlfriend?

ALONG A BRETON SHORE

Arlem Hawks

"Hawks continues to brilliantly mine the political turmoil in France during its bloody revolutionary years."
— Booklist

France, 1794. Maxence Étienne, a soldier for the République, believes in the revolution that is bringing liberty to France. Armelle Bernard is a young woman whose father was sentenced to death for hiding counter-revolutionaries. She decides to confront the priest who betrayed her father, and as the conflict escalates, she herself is ordered to be executed — an order to be carried out by Maxence. But he can't bring himself to carry out his assignment. Though Armelle and Maxence are on opposite sides of the revolution, they find themselves united as fugitives of the new republic. Now they must find a way to trust each other as they search for a path to freedom.

THE EDGE*David BaldacciNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR*

When CIA operative Jenny Silkwell is murdered in rural Maine, government officials have concerns over national security since her laptop and phone were full of state secrets. The U.S. government calls on ex-Army Ranger Travis Devine, who spent his time in the military preparing to take on any scenario, followed by his business career chasing shadows in the deepest halls of power. To Devine, this case looks straightforward. Except small towns hold secrets and Devine finds himself an outsider again. Devine must ingratiate himself with the locals. As he gets to know the residents of Putnam, Maine, answers seem to appear and then transform into more questions. There's a long history of secrets and those who will stop at nothing to keep them from being exposed.

OUT OF NOWHERE*Sandra BrownNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHORPUBLISHERS WEEKLY BESTSELLER*

At a Texas county fair, children's book author Elle Portman is enjoying a rare night out with her two-year-old son, Charlie. As they're about to head home, the unthinkable happens: a shooter opens fire into the crowd. Caught in the melee is corporate consultant Calder Hudson. Arrogant and self-centered, he's frustrated and confused when he wakes up in the hospital after undergoing emergency surgery on his arm. Others weren't as lucky, which instills in Calder a determination to get justice, a goal shared by Elle. Their encounter at the police station leads to a gravitation to one another, but even as the attraction grows, the shooter remains at large.

THE SECRET
A JACK REACHER NOVEL
Lee Child and Andrew Child

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHORS

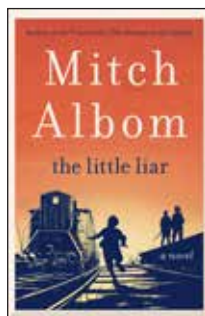

1992. Eight respectable, upstanding people have been found dead across the United States. These deaths look like accidents and don't appear to be connected until one body generates some unexpected attention. That attention comes from the secretary of defense, who promptly calls for an interagency task force to investigate. Jack Reacher is assigned as the army's representative. Reacher races to discover the link between these victims, and who killed them. He must navigate around the ulterior motives of his new "partners," all while moving into the sight line of some of the most dangerous people he has ever encountered. His mission is to uncover the truth. The question is: Will Reacher bring the bad guys to justice the official way . . . or his way?

THE LITTLE LIAR
A NOVEL
Mitch Albom

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Eleven-year-old Nico Krispis never told a lie. When the Nazis invade his home in Salonika, Greece, the trustworthy boy is discovered by a German officer, who offers him a chance to save his family. All Nico has to do is convince his fellow Jewish residents to board trains heading towards "the east" where they are promised jobs and safety. Unaware that this is all a cruel ruse, the innocent boy goes to the station platform every day and reassures the passengers that the journey is safe. But when the final train is at the station, Nico sees his family being loaded into a large boxcar crowded with other neighbors. Only after it is too late does Nico discover that he helped send the people he loved and all the others to their doom at Auschwitz. Nico never tells the truth again. His story is interwoven with those of his brother and their schoolmate, who survive the death camps and search for Nico, who has become a pathological liar.

THE NIGHT HOUSE
A NOVEL
Jo Nesbo

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

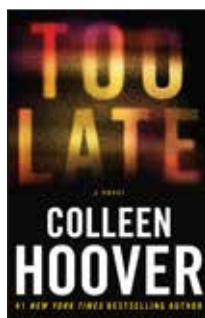

In the wake of his parents' tragic deaths, fourteen-year-old Richard Elauved is sent to live with his aunt and uncle in the remote town of Ballantyne. Richard earns a reputation as an outcast, and when a classmate named Tom goes missing, everyone suspects Richard is responsible. No one believes him when he says the telephone booth by the edge of the woods sucked Tom into the receiver like something out of a horror movie. No one except Karen, a fellow outsider who encourages Richard to pursue clues the police refuse to investigate. He traces the number that Tom prank-called from the phone booth to an abandoned house in the Mirror Forest. There he glimpses a terrifying face in the window, and voices begin to whisper in his ear. When another classmate disappears, Richard must find a way to prove his innocence as he grapples with the dark magic that is possessing Ballantyne.
